KERALA BJP PITCHES 'METRO MAN' SREEDHARAN AS CM FACE

The technocrat will be the BJP's chief ministerial candidate, senior party leader and Union Minister V Muraleedharan said

FINAL DECISION NOT TAKEN: MURALEEDHARAN

The minister's social media post on E Sreedharan's leadership in the upcoming Assembly polls came hours after the party's state chief K Surendran said he has requested the national leadership to announce the 'Metro Man' as NDA's chief ministerial candidate. Muraleedharan later clarified that the BJP has not taken a final decision on it

END OF 24-YEAR ASSOCIATION WITH DMRC

- Meanwhile, Sreedharan's 24-year long career with the Delhi Metro Rail Corporation ended on Thursday as he quit his advisory role
- The 88-year-old said age has not affected his health. "Mentally I am very strong. I will not be working like a normal politician. I will still be working like a technocrat," Sreedharan added | P7

Defectors to get Bengal BJP ticket

MANISH ANAND @ New Delhi

WITH the BJP on Thursday getting down to the business of finalising candidates for all poll-bound states, the thrust was on high skill-sets and qualifications along with the ability to resonate with Prime Minister Narendra Modi's call for "innovative leadership to execute the vision of the party and the government on the ground."

While the BJP is likely to draft in fresh blood in Assam to beat anti-incumbency, professionals who are achievers are being favoured in West Bengal, Kerala and Tamil Nadu.

The BJP's central election committee meeting, convened by party chief J P Nadda, was attended by Modi and senior Union ministers like Amit Shah, Rajnath Singh, Narendra Singh Tomar. Assam Chief Minister Sarbananda Sonowal, state minister Himanta Biswa Sarma, and leaders from the West Bengal party's unit were among those who attended.

The party is likely to release its list of candidates in the next few days in a phased manner in line with the staggered poll schedule. "Special focus during screening of candidates is on their educational qualifications and innovative leadership skills to execute the vision of the prime minister to connect the initiatives of the government with the people," said a senior BJP functionary.

Also, potential candidates who have the ability to take the party forward in the next decade, too, will get picked, the functionary added,

In line with the 2019 Lok Sabha elections, the BJP is leaning towards fielding a large number of turncoats, including sitting legislators, who joined the party from the ranks of the ruling Trinamool Congress in West Bengal, with source saying that the star power of actors and actresses, too, will be factored in.

While a few sitting MPs have evinced interest to contest Assembly elections in Assam, sources said the party isn't in favour of fielding Members of Parliament in West Bengal, as they would be tasked with helping build the poll campaign.

The West Bengal unit has recommended Trinamool Congress defector and former state minister Suvendu Adhikari from the Nandigram constituency against incumbent Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee. P10

PARTY TO FIELD PROFESSIONALS IN KERALA, TN

"In Kerala and Tamil Nadu, the BJP will give ample scope to professionals with credible public achievements besides the committed cadre in the candidate selection, while the turncoats from the Congress will get the ticket in Puducherry," sources stated.

ANUSHA RAVI @ Bengaluru

DESPITE facing severe financial distress due to cuts in devolution of funds, central funding, lesser GST compensation and a dip in growth rate, Karnataka Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa had presented a revenue surplus budget for 2020-2021 in March last year. As the fiscal year draws to an end, the state might see a revenue-deficit year for the first time in decades.

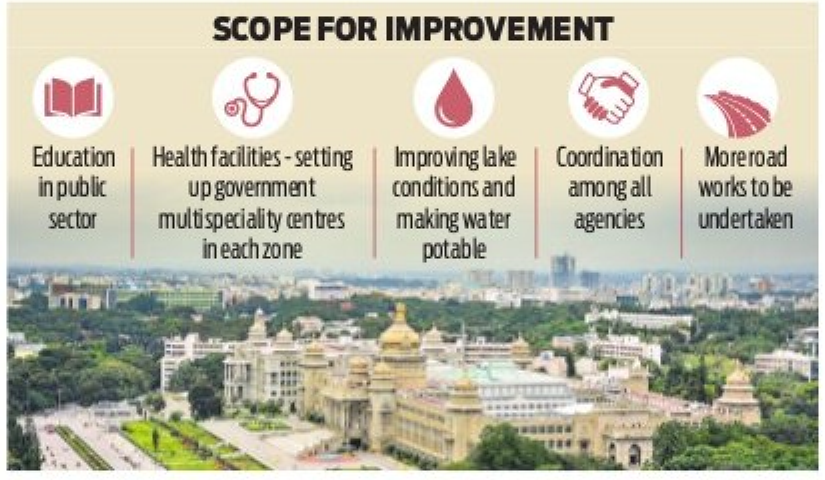
The national economic slowdown, worsened by the Covid-19-induced lockdown, is all set to take Karnataka into revenue deficit with liabilities exceeding 25 per cent and the fiscal deficit up to 5 per cent of the GSDP owing to additional borrowings to offset losses arising out of GST compensation loss. Given that the state's financial worries have worsened over the year, the difference in budget outlay for 2021-2022 is expected to be wafer thin in comparison to the outlay for 2020-2021. Slow recovery and estimated shortfall in the collection of state's own taxes has also added to the fiscal burden.

While a 'one-time' amendment was made to the Karnataka Fiscal Responsibility Act to allow increased borrowing for the 2020-2021 fiscal, the Finance Department now suggests that the amendment could be brought once again for the next fiscal year if need be. "The amendments were brought in to say fiscal deficit will be up to 5 per cent, liabilities will be higher than 25 per cent and we may face revenue deficit. That is how this fiscal year is likely to end. The Union Government, in its budget for 2021-2022, has allowed states to borrow an additional 1 per cent over and above the 3 per cent of GSDP. Based on necessity, we have to bring an amendment again," an official explained.

In its estimates for the budget 2021-2022, the state Finance Department has taken note that there is a shortfall in revenue receipts. P4

B'LURU TOPS ON CENTRE'S EASE OF LIVING INDEX

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru



SCOPE FOR IMPROVEMENT
Education in public sector
Health facilities - setting up government multispeciality centres in each zone
Improving lake conditions and making water potable
Coordination among all agencies
More road works to be undertaken

BENGALURU is an easy-going city to live in, and it's just not the climate, but also because of the presence of lung spaces, economic viability and lifestyle.

In the rankings released by Union Ministry of Housing and Urban Affairs, under the Smart Cities mission, on Thursday, Bengaluru was ranked number one on the Ease of Living Index in the category of cities with over one million population. Bengaluru scored 66.70 on a scale of 100, while Pune, which ranked second, scored 66.27. In the category of cities with less than one million population, Davanagere in Karnataka was ranked ninth.

"It is something to be proud of, as last year, Bengaluru's ranking was 58. It shows that the targets which the City has set are high, there is performance and people are also satisfied with what is being done. The projects which have been undertaken are also in the right direction," Bengaluru Smart City Ltd Managing Director Rajendra Cholan said.

The ranking was given based on three broad parametres — quality of life (facilities in health, education, safety and security, waste management practices), economic availability (scope for economic development of the city, employment opportunities and scope for professionals to grow), and sustainability.

However, for municipal performance, no city from Karnataka featured in the top 10 in both the categories.

IISc study shows higher virus mutations in B'luru

NIRAD MUDUR @ Bengaluru

A study by the Indian Institute of Science (IISc), Bengaluru, has revealed that mutations in the SARS-CoV-2 virus that causes Covid-19, are occurring at a higher and faster rate in Bengaluru than the national and global average. The IISc team has also provided the first evidence of a protein that expresses itself in suppressing the body's immune response to SARS-CoV-2 virus by using a technique called high resolution mass spectrometry.

The study of viral samples recovered from nasal secretions of consenting Covid-19-positive individuals in Bengaluru, published in the Journal of Proteome Research, found that the three Bengaluru isolates analysed had 27 mutations in the viral genomes with over 11 mutations per sample — more than both the national average of 8.4 and global average of 7.3, an institute release said.

However, precisely how virulent these mutated SARS-CoV-2 variants are, is not yet known. Utpal Tatu, Professor in the Department of Biochemistry at IISc, who led the study, told The New Indian Express, "Virulence of a certain variant comes to light only when that variant becomes stabilised." P3

8.5% EPFO keeps interest rate for FY21 unchanged

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Employees' Provident Fund Organisation (EPFO) has fixed the interest rate on provident fund deposits at 8.5% for 2020-21 — the same as the last year.

The decision was taken at the 228th meeting of the Central Board of Trustees of the EPFO, held in Srinagar under the chairmanship of Santosh Kumar Gangwar, Union Minister of State for Labour and Employment.

"The Central Board recommended 8.50% annual rate of interest to be credited on EPF accumulations in members' accounts for the financial year 2020-21. The interest rate will be officially notified in the government gazette following which EPFO would credit the rate of interest into the subscribers' accounts," the board said in a statement.

The decision came on the back of large withdrawals and fewer contributions throughout the last year amid the coronavirus pandemic. There were apprehension that the rate might be further reduced.

Sources said the EPFO will be left with a surplus of ₹300 crore after crediting an interest rate of 8.5% for FY21 to its six-crore subscribers.

In March 2020, EPFO had reduced the interest rate to 8.5% for 2019-20 — a seven-year low — from 8.65% in 2018-19.

Net new enrolments with the retirement fund body grew 24% to 1.25 million in December, indicating a return to the pre-Covid levels of subscriber growth for the EPFO, according to the payroll data released last Saturday.

SLEAZEGATE FALLOUT

Jarkiholi slips out of sight, brother Balachandra takes up issue with DKS

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

WHERE is Ramesh Jarkiholi? No one really knows, though it is suspected that he is holed up in a safe house in Bengaluru.

Jarkiholi, who resigned as Water Resources minister, has not met any friend or visitor since Tuesday evening, ever since the sleaze videos were aired on vernacular television channels and went viral on cell phones. His phones are switched off. His official media WhatsApp group has been disbanded. And his PRO Shankar is not entertaining any curious media calls.

Though the assembly is in session, Jarkiholi has stayed away, as has his brother, Yamkanmaradi MLA Satish Jarkiholi from the Congress. Only Arabhavi MLA and older brother Balachandra Jarkiholi attended the session on Thursday.

Balachandra was sighted in the legislature lounge, having a private word with Ramesh's bête noire, KPCC president DK Shivakumar. There was buzz on Tuesday that Shivakumar could be the person behind the sting, but by Thursday, sources were suggesting that the CD was actually "friendly fire" -- which means the suspicion now is that someone from the BJP carried it out. The meeting between Balachandra and Shivakumar only seemed to confirm that there were many angles to the incident, and both leaders kept it private, minus security guards and assistants.

Sources said the CD copies reached all news channel offices around 4.30 pm Tuesday, independent of Dinesh Kallahalli, the RTI activist who was preparing to meet the police commissioner at his office.

Show licence to dig: HC to Bescom

Court order comes after power utility says it will obtain such approvals when it is necessary for any particular installation

Children walk past a transformer installed without any safety fencing on a footpath on BEL Road | EXPRESS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Thursday directed Bescom to produce the licence issued by the appropriate authority to open and break up the soil and pavement of any street to install transformers in the city, in terms of Section 67(1) of the Electricity Act, 2003. A division bench of Chief Justice Abhay Shreeniwas Oka and Justice S Vishwajith Shetty passed the order after taking note of the statement of objections filed by Bescom.

The statement was filed by Bescom in connection with PIL filed by Wing Commander GB Athri (retd), drawing the court's attention to the risk posed to pedestrians by transformers installed on footpaths.

In response to the directions issued by the court to know whether Bescom has obtained BBMP's permission to install transformers, the electricity supply company stated in its response submitted to the court that the provisions of the Electricity Act, 2003, govern the operations of Electricity Supply Companies (Escoms). There is no requirement of obtaining approval of the local authority for the purpose of placing electrical works in any area, depending on the necessity and feasibility of operation.

However, all requirements with regard to safety are to be followed while undertaking such an exercise. As and when it is made necessary to obtain permission of any authority in respect of any particular installation, Bescom will obtain such approvals in due course, it told the court.

Hence, the court directed the electricity supply company to produce the licence.

ARKAVATHY ROW

ALLOTTEES LIVID OVER MOVE TO EXPAND LAYOUT

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

THE recent proposal by the government to extend the Arkavathy Layout by an additional 450 acres has not gone down well with the site allottees for whom the move has been effected. The proposal is aimed at providing alternative land to land owners who parted with their land for the layout formation on 2,750 acres as well as allottees whose lands were taken away from them due to a series of denotification orders.

A notification needs to be issued, land acquired, layout developed and then allotment made, which would all take considerable time, says the Forum representing allottees. Nearly 3,500 are awaiting alternative land for over a decade from the BDA.

A highly placed BDA official quoted the order dated February 24 as stating that 450 acres of land would be acquired in Mittaganahalli, Kogilu, Kattigenahalli, Srinivasapura, Baiyappanahalli and Sathanur to form the Arkavathy Layout Extension. The order states that farmers would be provided 9,583 square feet of developed site for every acre that was being acquired to form the layout.

M Nagaraju, president of the Arkavathy Layout Allottees Forum, an organisation which had been staging protests inside the BDA office every fortnight demanding justice for the allottees and land losers, "The individuals whose sites were taken away due to denotification are keen on acquiring land only inside the existing Arkavathy Layout. There is enough land to give it to the 3,500 individuals awaiting it. The demand over the years has been to provide alternative land only inside the Layout and not outside."

Nagaraju also cited that this would involve enormous delay. "When will they issue the notification to acquire the lands, when will they be actually acquired and finally when will the layout be developed?. This would be time consuming," he said.

BDA Chairman S R Vishwanath said, "As of now, there is land enough only for 1,000 sites and they can be handed over. To provide land for the remaining allottees and land losers, we need to go in for the option. The final notification for it will be issued shortly. Nearly 300 acres was under litigation in the courts. Only if the verdict is in our favour would it be possible to hand over land to the remaining. This solution was decided by the BDA long ago and the government has approved it now."

TCS launches Covid test, vax mgmt suite

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

LEADING global IT services firm Tata Consultancy Services (TCS) on Thursday announced the launch of the TCS Covid-19 testing and Vaccine Management suite. This suite of modular, easy-to-deploy solutions reportedly streamlines every stage of end-to-end testing and vaccination journeys.

TCS said in a statement that the suite will enable more individuals to get tested and vaccinated faster, and return to normal life. Every vaccination or test for Covid-19 involves multiple stakeholders – from manufacturing to transportation, allocation to storage, distribution to scheduling, and reporting to monitoring. "There is an opportunity to provide a seamless process across the entire value chain to prevent issues that could slow down testing and vaccination. The suite leverages AI, robotics, blockchain and Internet of Things (IoT) as well as TCS' extensive network of technology partners," the statement said.

Business Group Head – Life Sciences, Healthcare and Public Sector, Debashis Ghosh, said, "The pandemic is changing our world in many ways, driving stakeholder collaboration across industries that share a commitment to getting testing and vaccines to everyone."

The suite is said to be working in these five areas which include, TCS' cognitive AI engine, data driven smart analytics and IoT to make clinical trials more agile and safe; it ensures secure transfer of controlled pharmaceuticals and also monitor and optimize vaccine shipments; it will address challenges with vaccine supply chain, including demand planning, supply visibility, and cold storage handling.

Garbage set on fire near Bellandur lake causes panic

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

RESIDENTS around Bellandur lake were left in a tizzy after fire was spotted near the water body in the early hours of Thursday. Interestingly, the fire did not break out due to the presence of toxic chemicals in the water, but some unidentified individuals had set garbage on fire in the buffer area.

A senior BDA official said, "Someone had set the garbage on fire around 11 pm on Wednesday. The spot falls on private land within the buffer zone of the lake. Marshals noticed it around 1 am on Thursday and tried to douse the fire, but could not. Fire engines from Sarjapur fire station later put out the fire."

BDA Chairman S R Vishwanath confirmed the incident. The biggest water body in the city caught fire in May 2015 and January 2018 due to the presence of pollutants and burned for hours earning it nationwide notoriety.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

05th March: I mentioned numerology yesterday. Today's number is five, representing harmony. Let me explain. Five is two plus three. Under the number two, possibilities multiply, while the number three is all about finding compromise. Five therefore brings choice and different options together with the need to bring people together. It's time to make peace!

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Take the ethical high ground. There seems to be little point in subjecting others to your moral scrutiny. What you can do is lead by example. Any lingering questions of right and wrong should take a turn for the better if you act out of only the very highest of motives.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
As the hours pass your mood will gradually become more adventurous. This could mean personal plans go through a certain amount of chopping & changing. Any opportunity to travel can be seized. After all, you never know what you might find.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
It seems inevitable that you will have to play the game according to partners' rules. If they shift the goal posts, there may be little that you can do about it. Take the only choice possible and put loved ones' interests first! You'll receive your reward later.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
It certainly looks like a day to keep busy and to make sure that every single detail is dealt with before you go on to tackle larger schemes. There is much to be said on keeping a low profile in relationships - and don't give anyone reason to moan or complain.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
If financial affairs have been confused lately, you're about to begin to see the wood for the trees. And, as if by magic, life will start to make much more sense. Within the next week, facts and figures which once seemed meaningless will take on a new light.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
The shift now taking place in your monthly cycles indicates that you may not feel as in tune with your intuitions as you have in the recent past. You'll have to explain yourself to people in future, rather than hoping that they'll read your mind.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
You are now beginning to look more confident, and in many situations it's your social graces which will carry you through. However, you will still be troubled by the belief that others are keeping certain information from you. The best advice is to keep your own counsel for now.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Your social stars are looking very powerful. You'll be able to indulge your passionate nature over the coming weeks, extending your desire for mystery and secret trysts. Just don't give anyone else the idea that you're letting them down.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
A partner's support is bound to give you more confidence, but your feelings will be rather unsteady. If you realise that unexpected events are likely to affect your emotions, you'll be well-prepared. And if someone springs a surprise, take it in the spirit it's meant.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Spend as much time by yourself as you like, and don't let others dragoon you into joining in any sort of group activity against your will, least of all collective fun. Everything has to be done in your own time, and only when you are good and ready.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
You are far too willing to make value judgments at the moment. Even though there are many issues about which you feel very strongly, this may be no time to impose your own moral standards. Try you watch, listen and learn from others.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
This is a useful moment for all ambitious and professional people, for colleagues and acquaintances will help lift you to new heights. Much depends on your ability to persuade others that you are right. If you get rivals on your side now, you won't regret it.

Register before coming to hospital for jab, say docs

Elderly people flock to hospitals, staff struggle to manage crowds

CHETANA BELAGERE @Bengaluru

CENTRAL government's permission for walk-in registrations for vaccination is causing havoc at vaccine sites in Bengaluru. This is mainly happening due lack of emphasis by the Centre on microplanning, resulting in unnecessary congregations of senior citizens who are rushing to hospitals to get the jab.

Many private hospitals in Bengaluru are seeing around 300 beneficiaries a day, including people who have been unable to register on CoWIN and those who wanted to walk-in and register.

"Considering the population of the elderly, the rush is only going to increase. While we are very empathetic towards them, this kind of rush is becoming a problem not just for hospital staff but for senior citizens too," said Dr Yateesh Govindaiah, assistant director for medical services, Apollo Hospitals.

Dr Satyanarayana Mysore, senior pulmonologist and head of the department of sleep medicine at Manipal Hospital, Bengaluru, said that the government had introduced the vaccine in phases based on vulnerability to infection and availability of the vaccine.

However, "there will be exceptions in situations where a person is susceptible but you cannot go by the set criteria issued by the government. In such situations there should be a way that clinicians can make an exception," he said.

Dr Satyanarayana said that the government should allow general practitioners, physicians, pulmonologists etc, to decide on who should get the vaccine and also allow them to administer the shot as it would ease the load on government and private hospitals.

"A nodal vaccine officer should be present at each hospital to supervise matters and provide discretionary powers to pulmonologists and physicians to take a call on who should be vaccinated on priority. Also, doctors can identify vulnerable people from the hospital database, and there should be a separate methodology for it," Dr Satyanarayana said.

Meanwhile, hospitals such as M S Ramaiah Memorial Hospital have made arrangements for group exercise therapy and selfie counters to keep anxious senior citizens engaged.

Hospital president Dr Naresh Shetty said, "Our issue is that they are senior citizens. If they walk in without registration it becomes difficult to manage them. Our empathy is definitely with them. But we need to keep in mind that if people don't register and come, it won't be fair to those who have registered."

While the response for phase 3 is heartening, doctors said that crowding could lead to infection. However, elderly people have their reasons. "Right now, there is a mixed feeling about the vaccination. Once everyone knows it is safe, the rush will increase. It is better to get vaccinated now. This rush is less as compared to what it may be after some days," said Rama Shetty, a homemaker.

Dr Giridhara Babu, senior epidemiologist said, "It's very important to ensure that vaccination sessions are scheduled based on availability by mapping beneficiaries. With the help of cab aggregators and help desks, NGOs such as Rotary can help out with facilitating movement for vaccination."

Govt mulls vaccinating elderly at PHCs to speed up vax coverage

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE government is considering involving primary health centres and community health centres in vaccine administration, Minister for Health Dr K Sudhakar said on Thursday.

The government is considering the move to speed up vaccination of the elderly and people aged above 45 with comorbidities. This is currently being carried out at taluk and district hospitals and designated private facilities.

"If a vaccinated person gets infected, the effect will be minimal. No adverse effect has been reported. Considering the infrastructure in private hospitals, permission for vaccines will be given as per Central government guidelines," Sudhakar said.

As many as 1,561 people with comorbidities were given the first dose on Thursday, taking the total tally of this group to 5,179 people, while 10,525 people aged 60 and above got their first shot, taking the total tally of vaccinated senior citizens to 33,632.

No Adverse Events Following Immunization have been reported for Phase-3 since it began on March 1.

So far, 4,51,007 health workers have got their first dose, 2,20,566 health workers have got their second dose, and 1,64,194 frontline workers have got their first dose and 6 frontline workers have got the second dose.

IMA: Make CoWIN more people-friendly

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Indian Medical Association has urged the Centre to make the CoWIN portal more people-friendly, and provide vaccine free of cost to all citizens.

"We can tide over the crisis immediately by making it free of cost," Dr Srinivasa S, Chairman, IMA National Standing Committee, Child Health, said.

In a letter, IMA national president Dr J A Jayalal has requested the government to consider vaccination free of cost to health workers in both private and government sector.

".... Vaccine against Covid-19 is one of the most important tools in containing the deadly pandemic," the IMA said.

Virus mutations keep happening, says IISc prof

SIMPLY put, it means the virulence — or how lethal it is — is determined only when the particular variant is observed in more number of Covid-19 positive individuals, while the study was based on a limited number of samples taken from infected patients.

But Prof Tatu pointed out that the study was undertaken four months ago, and "it is very likely that the number of mutations now is much higher than what was found then, as mutations keep happening."

To better understand how the virus is mutating and its protein biology, the Prof Tatu-led team carried out a comprehensive 'proteo-genomic' investigation — a series of analyses of SARS-CoV-2 isolates. The genomic analysis was done using what molecular biologists call 'next generation sequencing' (NGS), a technology that allows rapid sequencing of the entire genome.

The phylogenetic analysis — a study of the evolutionary development of a species, a group of organisms, or a particular characteristic of an organism — found that the Bengaluru isolates are most closely related to the one from Bangladesh. It showed that the viral isolates in India have multiple origins rather than having evolved from a single ancestral variant.

Protein suppressing human immune response discovered

The study also detected 13 different proteins – most of them previously unidentified – from clinical samples. One such protein, the "Orf9b", which suppresses the host's immune response, had merely been predicted, but the IISc team has provided the first evidence of its action in impacting the human immune response to Covid-19.

The SARS-CoV-2 genome is coded for more than 25 proteins, but only a handful of these had been identified so far. However, the IISc team discovered as many as 441 proteins unique to Covid-19 positive patients, many of which are speculated to play a key role in the body's immune response. For this, the team carried out proteomic analysis using a technique called high resolution mass spectrometry.

"Studying viral proteins provides functional information, which is currently not well represented," Tatu said. "Just knowing how the virus functions is not enough. We need to put it in the context of the host," he explained. It was in the third analysis that his team explored how the human body responds to the virus by examining host proteins, which led to the discovery of the 441 proteins unique to Covid-19 patients.

Prof Tatu said his team is upbeat about the potential this method (high resolution mass spectrometry) has for large-scale testing.

He said proteins can be reliable markers of infections like Covid-19 because they are more abundant and stable as compared to RNA molecules on which the prevalent RT-PCR tests rely.

Sheetal Tushir, a PhD student and the study's first author, said, "The best thing we can hope to see in this century is the use of mass spectrometry as a basic technique for diagnostics."

SALES IN THE Post COVID Era

The impact of Covid19 on businesses is significant, particularly on cash flows. For both fortunate businesses that have had increase in sales and those that have had a decrease in sales, it is vital to get back to the basics of where the cash flows are created. As a small and medium business owner you are aware that sales is the starting point of your business cash flows. So how do you increase sales? Let's take a look at sales revenue and see some examples of how to analyse

Understanding trends
When you have sales data of each of your products, take a look how each of your products is performing over a period of time. Data based on pre-covid may not be reliable to understand what the users of your products are looking for in the post-covid situation. Business Klinic can assist in providing data analysis for your products and also look at understanding drivers for your sales demand.

Remove unprofitable products
The pandemic has provided an apt checkpoint for all businesses to stop and analyse the profitability of their entire product lines. We recommend setting a profitability limit to see how many products fall below this limit. If the product sales continue to fall or fluctuate wildly, then it would be recommended to remove these products.

Find modifications for products that are having low or zero profit
For products that are near your set profitability, keep improvising the product so that your customers still like them. Business Klinic can point you to a variety of product design firms and freelance designers to spruce up your product. Customers always appreciate improvements that are provided to them proactively!

Change price points of products
Most products have a market-life. Business Klinic can assist you in deciding whether your product has reached its end-of-life and can recommend changes. One of the classic approaches is to reduce the price of the product. Price reduction or discounts are given to ensure that you are able to maintain the basic volume required for production. Keep a close eye on products that have a reduced price point.

Bundle or unbundle products
The usage pattern of your product may have changed and therefore it may be that consumers would like to buy a combination of your products. Or it could be visa versa; your bundled product may need to be sold as its parts. Covid has brought about changes to consumer behaviours that will require your business to rethink the product bundles you sell.

These points mentioned above should act as a catalyst to get you thinking about how to improve your business in the post-COVID era. Business Klinic can help in assisting your business in a variety of ways. Get in touch with us https://businessklinic.in

CHAOS DURING 'ONE NATION, ONE ELECTION' DEBATE, CONG MLA REMOVES SHIRT IN HOUSE

Bhadravathi legislator Sangamesh suspended from Assembly for a week; BSY calls act shameful, undemocratic

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @ Bengaluru

Congress MLA Sangamesh removes his shirt during the discussion on 'One Nation, One Election' in Assembly on Thursday

THE Budget Session of the state legislature started off on an acrimonious note on Thursday, with Congress members tearing copies of agenda in the Assembly and the party's Bhadravathi MLA, B K Sangamesh, taking off his shirt to protest against the discussion on the 'One Nation, One Election' idea. While the MLA was suspended from the House for a week, there were heated exchanges between Opposition and ruling party members for the most part of the day as Congress kept insisting that the Speaker revoke Sangamesh's suspension.

As soon as Speaker Vishweshwara Hegde Kageri initiated the debate, Congress members created a ruckus, terming it as an RSS agenda. Even as Kageri started reading his speech, they rushed to the well, raising slogans. During their protest, Sangamesh removed his shirt, leaving the House and his party embarrassed. Despite repeated pleas by Kageri, he did not wear his shirt. Finally, KPCC president D K Shivakumar got him wear it.

Taking objection to this, Kageri said Sangamesh had behaved disrespectfully and irresponsibly. "I am not going to tolerate your behaviour. This is an esteemed House and such behaviour is not allowed. He will be suspended for one week till March 12," he said. Sangamesh was suspended under Section 348 of the Karnataka Conduct of Government Business in the State Legislature Act.

Later, Sangamesh, along with Opposition leader Siddaramiah and others, tried to sneak into the Assembly, but he was stopped by Marshals. Congress members continued their dharna in the well demanding that Sangamesh be allowed to attend the proceedings. Siddaramaiah said Sangamesh was protesting against the registration of a case of attempt to murder (IPC Section 307) against him and his family. "We demand revocation of his suspension,'' he said.

Kageri, however, said both are different issues. "If a case under IPC Sec 307 is registered, should one remove their shirt?," he questioned. "It's not good to support such an act by a member of your party which ruled the country for 60 years."

During Kageri's speech, Congress members raised slogans against the BJP, the RSS and even the Speaker. They termed the move to take up discussion on 'On Nation, One Election' as "dictatorial attitude" and alleged that the Assembly was being turned into 'Keshava Krupa' (RSS state headquarters in Basavanagudi). After completing his speech amid the pandemonium, Kageri asked Siddaramaiah why he was taking a U-turn when there was already a list of 19 Congress members who were willing to talk on the topic.

Chief Minister Yediyurappa hit out at protesting Opposition members saying, "It is shameful, this is not democracy. People from your constituency will not forgive you.'' When the Opposition members were making statements against the RSS, the CM said he himself is from the RSS and so is PM Modi. The Congress has no right to speak against the RSS, he thundered.

Siddaramaiah questioned Kageri under which rule the debate was allowed.

Kageri, however, said he has initiated the debate under special discretionary powers given to the Speaker. But Congress leader and former Speaker Ramesh Kumar stated that power has to be exercised only during special occasions.

The JDS members neither supported nor protested.

Sangamesh, who spoke to the media later, said the BJP government had filed many false cases against him and his family members. "To protest against this, I removed my shirt. I also did it against the debate on 'One Nation, One Election'," he said.

KOLAR COUNCILLOR TOO TAKES OFF SHIRT

Kolar: Chaos prevailed during the general body meeting of the Kolar City Municipal Council on Thursday when members got into a verbal duel over taking up maintenance work at the Ambedkar Bhavan. At one stage, Councillor Ambareesh removed his shirt in the council hall. Former CMC president Mubarack pointed out that the building comes under the Social Welfare Department and not under the CMC. He suggested that the funds sanctioned for the painting work can be utilised to provide SC and ST students with laptops. When Standing Committee president Manjunath supported Mubarack, a heated altercation ensued and Ambareesh expressed his anger by taking off his shirt.

CM says reform will help improve administration

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

CHIEF MINISTER B S Yediyurappa on Thursday stressed the need for a debate on 'One Nation, One Election', as repeated elections meant the model code of conduct coming into force, which would hamper the functioning of the government and delay developmental works.

During the debate on 'One Nation, One Election' in the Assembly, Yediyurappa said that though elections are inevitable in a democracy, they are expensive and time-consuming. He said there is a need to make amendments to The Representation of the People Act, 1951, to hold polls simultaneously across the country. The CM said it will help improve administration, save time and resources required to hold elections. "There will be initial hiccups, but if it is discussed at all levels, it can be debated and implemented. This will be a major challenging task,'' he added.

Speaker Vishweshwar Hegde Kageri quoted former Election Commission S Y Qureshi who had said -- "From the Eelection Commission's point of view, this is the easiest thing to happen, the voter is the same, polling stations are the same and the security needed is the same".

Kageri said India has moved forward from ballot paper to VV PAT. Counting, which used to take three days, has now reduced to half a day. "In this process, if we focus on utilising man power and money spent, we will develop further,'' Kageri said.

He said the discussion on 'One Nation, One Election' was being held following the advice of Prime Minister Narendra Modi during a meeting of the Speakers of legislative assemblies held in Gujarat recently. He said that in many western countries, elections take place at one time. In 2019, the LS polls and the assembly elections in three states were held simultaneously, and as per the estimation, ₹60,000 crore was spent.

IT IS RSS AGENDA, SAYS SIDDARAMAIAH

Bengaluru: The Congress on Thursday questioned the need for 'One Nation, One Election' debate in the Assembly saying the issue has to be discussed at the national level. "It requires Constitutional amendment and let the Centre discuss it. When we don't have any powers, what is the point in discussing it? Instead of discussing this issue, we should have discussed election reforms," Opposition Leader in the Assembly Siddaramaiah told reporters after the Assembly was adjourned after protest by Congress members. "This is an RSS agenda. It is not just about One Nation, One Election, but One Leader, One Nation and One Party, One Election," he alleged. Siddaramaiah said the Congress isn't running away from the debate, but opposing it as such a debate is not required in the Assembly and also it is not as per the House rules. "They are doing it only for publicity," he said. He said during the debate, Congress MLA HK Patil raised a 'Point of Order', but was not even allowed to present his views. "Speaker is not conducting himself in a democratic way," he said. ENS

Supporters of Gokak MLA Ramesh Jarkiholi stage a protest against his resignation at Rani Chennamma Circle in Belagavi on Thursday

Will bro replace bro in Cabinet after elections?

NAUSHAD BIJAPUR @ Belagavi

EVEN as the Jarkiholi brothers and their supporters are yet to come to terms with the political developments that led to the exit of Water Resources Minister Ramesh Jarkiholi, it has come to light that the BJP leadership is not keen on handing over his portfolio to his brother and Arabhavi MLA Balachandra.

At least, until the upcoming bypolls in the State and Assembly elections in four states and one Union Territory are over.

Balachandra is currently chairman of Karnataka Milk Federation.

According to sources, the BJP leadership is concerned about the impact the purported video clips -- showing Ramesh getting intimate with an unidentified woman -- could have on the ensuing polls, as opposition parties in various states are planning to use the issue to target the BJP. To avoid this, the BJP leadership is said to be contemplating not replacing Ramesh with Balachandra for some time.

According to a close friend of Balachandra, the Jarkiholi brothers were against the Ramesh's resignation until they got a firm assurance from the BJP that the former would be made a minister and given his brother's portfolio (Water Resources).

Many of Jarkiholi's close aides are exerting pressure on the government to expedite the investigation, claiming the videos are fake and it is a conspiracy to target the Jarkiholis. Calling the complaint lodged in connection with the issue false, Balachandra said only those who feel they are victims should lodge a case.

An investigation should be conducted to expose those involved in publicising the videos, he said, suspecting the role of some influential people behind the entire episode.

A "secret team" planned the sleaze shoot in detail, and is now calling the shots, sources said. It is said that the team arranged for the seamless distribution of CDs on Tuesday evening, with the needle of suspicion pointing to a planned honeytrap, with the team tracking Jarkiholi and recording the CDs from multiple locations. The other issue of some significance is that a meeting was scheduled at 10 am Tuesday between CM B S Yediyurappa, Jarkiholi and representatives from Koppal, Ballari, Vijayanagara and Raichur on issues challenging the capacity of Tungabhadra Dam and the setting up of a reservoir near Navali.

That day, there was an intelligence tip-off about the CD, which made its way to news channels at 5pm, but it is suspected that the CM and the official administration chose to keep mum on the tip-off. And if the CM knew, he did not alert Home Minister Basavaraj Bommai or Jarkiholi.

Recovery hasn't been up to the mark: Official

"WHILE there were signs of recovery in the second quarter, it hasn't been up to the mark. We usually take about 10-14 per cent over and above last year's receipts as growth estimates, but this year, we are just about reaching collections of what we saw in the corresponding period of 2019-2020. This means February collections this year is basically what was in 2019-2020 in the same month. Technically, then 2020-2021 becomes a null year," said an official.

While the Excise Department is expected to achieve 95% of revenue targets, all other state revenues are expected to see a shortfall. But expenditures will remain unchanged, leading to a revenue deficit. Out of the capital receipts, the state will have to fund revenue expenditure. Apart from expenditure like salaries, funds for welfare schemes, the state has the added burden of additional principal and interest repayments on additional borrowings.

Oppn protests discussion on simultaneous polls in Council

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

MEMBERS of the Opposition strongly opposed a discussion on 'One Nation, One Election' - the prime minister's vision for simultaneous elections - leading to an adjournment of the Legislative Council session.

During post-lunch proceedings on Thursday, Chairman Basavaraj Horatti proposed a discussion on the issue, leading to a heated debate between the ruling and opposition parties. Congress MLCs Prakash Rathod, U B Venkatesh, M Narayanaswamy, H M Ramesh Gowda of the JDS, and others entered the well of the House and raised slogans. This led to a commotion and the chairman adjourned proceedings till Friday morning.

Earlier, Leader of the Opposition S R Patil said the issue was not discussed in the Business Advisory Committee meeting. "The Constitution needs to be amended to change the electoral system. As the House doesn't have the power to change the Constitution, permission should not be given to discuss it," he said.

Congress MLC B K Hariprasad alleged that 'One Nation, One Election' was the agenda of the RSS, and that the agenda of a party or an organisation should not be discussed in the House. Floor Leader Kota Shrinivas Poojari tried to convince the opposition, but failed.

PROS AND CONS

Legal experts on 'One Nation, One Election'

'Saves money and time'

Ashok Haranahalli, former Advocate-General

It is the need of the hour to hold simultaneous elections to Assemblies and Parliament, for which major amendments should be made to the Constitution. If President's rule is imposed, there is a provision in the Constitution to hold fresh elections. The terms of different state assemblies end at different times. Hence, the amendment is necessary. If elections are held simultaneously, there is no need for State Election Commissions. The present system affects governance for about 45 days due to the Model Code of Conduct. State governments have to put new policies on hold, but can also take advantage by announcing policies to please voters just before elections.It is a huge burden on the exchequer. Enlisting teachers frequently for poll duty can be avoided. Similarly, security personnel can be allowed to track crime, instead of focusing on elections. In the interest of governance, simultaneous elections can be held in a democratic set-up.

'Impossible in federal structure'

Prof Ravivarma Kumar, former Advocate-General

'One Nation, One Election' is an impossibility in a parliamentary system where every government is accountable. In a federal country, one cannot demand one election. When the basic fabric of the Constitution is changed, it will lead to an American system where there is no by-election. India is a land of diversity which should be maintained by allowing each culture to have its say. For example, if the government takes an anti-Kannada stand, it will be ousted, as was done during the Gokak movement. This is not possible if the 'one election' system is introduced. The existing system is necessary to protect diversity and to prevent a 'Hindi government' from disturbing non-Hindi states. It is an attempt by somebody who secured a brute majority. That is why Dr B R Ambedkar had, on November 25, 1949, warned that any government which secures a brute majority is likely to degenerate into dictatorship. We are seeing evidence of it by discussing this idea.

MLC polls: BJP's Muniraju files papers, win certain

BENGALURU: On Thursday, a beaming BJP candidate Muniraju Gowda, also known as Tulasi Muniraju Gowda, marched into the Legislative Secretariat to file his nomination papers for the Legislative Council bypoll, at an auspicious moment. Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa, Home Minister Basavaraj Bommai and Cooperation Minister S T Somashekar accompanied him. Since no one has filed their nomination for this lone Council seat, his victory is a foregone conclusion. March 8 is the last date for withdrawal. The result may be officially announced that day, but congratulatory messages have begun pouring in and celebrations have started. With his victory certain, the BJP's strength will go up to 32 in the 75-member Legislative Council.

₹12,432 cr collected as taxes on fuel: Poojari

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE State Government has collected over ₹12,432 crore from taxes on petrol and diesel in the current fiscal year.

Floor leader and minister Kota Shrinivas Poojari was replying in the Legislative Council on Thursday to a question by Prakash K Rathod (Congress) on increasing prices of petrol and diesel.

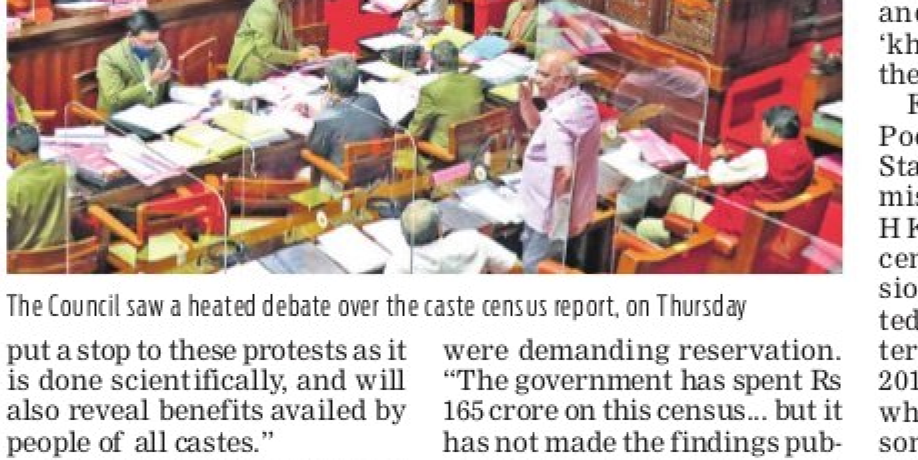
The minister said there was no information on fuel taxes collected by the Centre.

Rathod said that the government had not slashed taxes on fuel and this showed that it was not bothered about the citizens' hardships. Poojari said that he would bring it to the notice of the Chief Minister.

Meanwhile, the Leader of the Opposition S R Patil brought up the issue of recent explosions in quarries. He said that two similar incidents had taken place in a span of a month and the government was not acting tough despite people losing their lives in such tragedies.

MLCs want caste census report made public

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru



The Council saw a heated debate over the caste census report, on Thursday

MEMBERS of the Legislative Council on Thursday demanded that the government make the caste census report public. This comes in the wake of a number of communities demanding reservation or an increase in quota over the past few months.

Members KC Kondaiah, KP Nanjundi Vishwakarma, Opposition leader SR Patil, Adagur H Vishwanath, Marithbbegowda and R Dharmasena drew the attention of the government to the issue in the Upper House, on Thursday.

Nanjundi said that people from all castes are holding protests, demanding reservation. "The caste census report can put a stop to these protests as it is done scientifically, and will also reveal benefits availed by people of all castes."

Vishwanath said the state was burning as communities were demanding reservation. "The government has spent Rs 165 crore on this census... but it has not made the findings public. Reservation should be given based on the report," he said.

Meanwhile, Patil said the government should stop sending files from one office to another on this issue.

Marithibbegowda attacked seers who are leading the protests demanding reservation, and said they should remove 'khaavi' (saffron robes) when they sit on protests.

Floor leader Kota Shrinivas Poojari said the Karnataka State Backward Classes Commission headed by chairperson H Kantharaj had conducted the census in 2015. "The commission, however, has not submitted the report as Kantharaj's term ended on September 21, 2019. K Jayaprakash Hegde, who was appointed chairperson in November last year, said he would take up the matter on priority," Poojari said.

BMTC bus mows down policeman

A 47-year-old police constable was knocked down by a speeding BMTC bus on Magadi road, near Byadarahalli, on Thursday. The deceased, Ramachari B, was attached to the KR Market police station. The incident occurred around 1.30 pm when the bus driver tried to overtake a bike, but hit Ramachari, who suffered severe head injuries and died on the spot. Police arrested the bus driver

ED ATTACHES ASSETS WORTH ₹79.70 LAKH OF EX-IT OFFICER

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE Directorate of Enforcement (ED) has issued a Provisional Attachment Order (PAO) attaching assets worth Rs 79.70 lakh of the then Income Tax officer (ITO) Karnataka Abhishek Tripathi and his family members under the Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA), 2002, the ED stated.

"The investigation has revealed that between December 29, 2008 and April 28, 2016, Tripathi had misused his official position to enter into a number of suspicious transactions. He had acquired huge movable and immovable properties in his name and in the name of his family members, which are disproportionate to his known sources of Income," the ED stated. The assets include three immovable properties at Lakhimpur Kheri and Lucknow district in Uttar Pradesh and bank balance.

The ED had taken up investigation against the ITO and his family members on the basis of a chargesheet filed by the CBI, Anti-Corruption Bureau (ACB), Bengaluru in 2016 (RC12(A)/2016) against Tripathi and his family members for acquiring assets disproportionate to his known sources of income.

Sex tape: Activist fears for life, asks for gunman

Seeks time to appear before police

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

SOCIAL activist Dinesh Kallahalli has sought time from the Cubbon Park police to appear before the investigating officer, as he claims to be afraid of coming out of his house without a gunman.

Kallahalli had reportedly begun receiving threat calls soon after filing a petition in connection to the contoversial sleaze videos, allegedly involving BJP leader Ramesh Jarkiholi. Thereafter, two policemen were deployed to provide security at his residence in Kanakapura.

Dinesh Kallahalli

It may be noted that Kallahalli had approached Bengaluru City Police Commissioner Kamal Pant and demanded a detailed probe into the alleged sex scandal. Accordingly, an investigating officer had issued him a notice to appear before the police at 11:30 am on Thursday, and provide more information about the case. But he declined to do so, requesting for the protection of a gunman. He, however, confirmed that he will appear on March 9.

Meanwhile, even as Jarkiholi tendered his resignation from the B S Yediyurappa cabinet on Wednesday, citing moral grounds, the police are yet to find any clues about the woman purportedly seen in the videos. Cubbon Park police, along with CCB officers, have initiated an investigation to trace the whereabouts of the woman and her family, who are crucial to file an FIR in the case.

On Thursday, a police team obtained CCTV footage from a lodge in Gandhinagar, where one of the family members had reportedly handed over the CD containing the controversial videos to Kallahalli on March 1. Police are also probing the source location from where the video was uploaded online.

PRESS NOTE

Section 22(1) of the Karnataka Lokayukta Act, 1984 (the Act), mandates that every public servant referred to in sub-section (1) of Section 7, other than a Government servant, shall within three months after the commencement of this Act and thereafter, before the 30th June of every year submit to the Lokayukta in the prescribed form, a statement of his assets and liabilities and those of the members of his family.

On failure to submit the above statement, Section 22(2) of the Act mandates the Lokayukta to make a report to the Competent Authority about the non-submission of the statement of assets and liabilities as prescribed in the Act. It also requires a copy of the said report to be sent to the public servant concerned. If the public servant concerned fails to comply with the requirement of Section 22(1) of the Act in spite of the above report being sent to him under Section 22(2) of the Act within two months of such report, the Lokayukta shall publish or cause to be published, the names of such defaulting public servants in three newspapers having wide publicity in the State.

The public servants referred to in Section 22 of the Act include all members of the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike. Since the below mentioned public servants have defaulted in submitting the required statement of assets and liabilities, for the year 2018-19, in spite of the copy of the report dated 26th November, 2020, being served on them, within two months of such report submitted to the Competent Authority, their names are hereby published in three newspapers, as required under sub-section (2) of Section 22 of the Act.

The BJP has destroyed the principle of federalism and AIADMK is a party to it, general secretary of CPI(M) Sitaram Yechury said on Thursday.

Panchamasali stir: Protesters put off strike

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICEE
@Bengaluru:

THE protest by Lingayat Panchamasali community activists continued at Freedom Park on Thursday, but the indefinite hunger strike they had planned has been put off. This is significant step in the protest, because there is an underlying fear that it could spark violence. The protesters are demanding backward 2A status for the community.

Basava Jaya Mrutyunjaya Swami told TNIE that they had originally planned to go on a hunger strike from Thursday, but with many community leaders prevailing on them to call it off, they decided to put it off. Community leaders like MLA Basanagouda Patil Yatnal and others had urged the leadership not to go ahead with the hunger strike as planned, because of the fear of violence.

Movement leader Vijayanand Kashappanavar told TNIE that everything depends on the community leadership and what the leaders decide is final.

It may be recalled that the protesters had threatened that if their demand for reservation was not sorted out, they would go ahead with the strike. On Wednesday, Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa announced a three-member team headed by a High Court judge to look into all the reservation demands.

But Mrutunjaya Swami said the protest will continue till the CM announces reservation, and there is no going back on it.

Is he or isn't he? BJP U-turn on Metroman's candidature

State party chief calls E Sreedharan chief ministerial face, Union Minister says no, media reports misguided him

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Kochi/Tiruvalla

CONFUSION over 'Metroman' E Sreedharan being projected as the BJP's likely chief ministerial candidate in Kerala was triggered after party's state president K Surendran's statement to this effect on Thursday. But as the news gained traction, the national party was forced to clarify that no decision was taken on Sreedharan as the CM candidate.

Surendran, who is leading the BJP's Vijaya Yathra, told reporters in Tiruvalla that the party made Sreedharan, who implemented key projects including the Konkan Railway and Delhi Metro Rail, its CM candidate to usher in Kerala's development. "The Kochi Metro and timely completion of Palarivattom are typical examples of Sreedharan's brilliance. If the Metroman is given a chance, we believe he will be able to execute the development plans mooted by Prime Minister Narendra Modi," Surendran said.

Later, Minister of State for External Affairs and Parliamentary Affairs, V Muraleedharan tweeted: " BJP will fight Kerala polls with E Sreedharan as chief ministerial candidate. We will defeat both CPM and Congress to provide corruption-free, development-oriented governance for the people of Kerala."

However, sometime after the initial tweet, Muraleedharan corrected himself and said that he was misguided by reports on Sreedharan being made the CM pick. "Later, I crosschecked with the party chief who said that he has not made any such announcement," Muraleedharan clarified in a tweet.

Rival parties mocked the announcement by BJP, which has just one MLA in the 140-member Kerala assembly. Shashi Tharoor, MP, tweeted: "Hilarious @BJPKeralam manages to be confused about who will occupy the top floor of a building that will never be built. There will be no BJP CM in Kerala."

Earlier, E Sreedharan said he has decided to resign as DMRC Principal Advisor. After inspecting the rebuilt Palarivattom flyover, he said that this was mandatory before contesting polls.

"I will soon submit my resignation as DMRC Principal Advisor since it is mandatory before filing the nomination for the assembly polls. However, I hope I'll be able to monitor development projects as an MLA," Sreedharan told reporters in Kochi.

ED shifts focus to SNC Lavalin case

Kochi: The Enforcement Directorate (ED) has turned its attention to the SNC Lavalin case, in which Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan is under the scanner, in a move which will put the state government further in the dock. As part of this, a notice issued by ED deputy director in Kochi Vikas C Mehta was served on the Chief Editor of a vernacular fortnightly -- who is a complainant in the Lavalin case -- to appear before the agency with related evidence on Friday. The recipient of the ED notice was asked to appear before the enforcement agency with the necessary evidence. ENS

EPS, OPS interview aspirants for party tickets

Chennai: Chief Minister Edappadi K Palaniswami and Deputy CM O Panneerselvam on Thursday interviewed party aspirants who submitted applications seeking a party ticket for contesting the Assembly polls. The interview of aspirants from across the State was completed in a single day. Over 8,200 party office bearers have submitted applications for themselves as well for others too. The AIADMK headquarters have called for interview only those who have submitted applications in their names on Thursday. The process of interviewing the aspirants took place in groups for each party district.

DMK takes a step forward, two backwards

S KUMARESAN @ CHENNAI

ASSEMBLY ELECTION 2021 DECIDE

IT was game half-won for DMK on Thursday, as it managed to convince one ally while issues flared up with another. The day began on a pleasant note at the DMK camp, with VCK chief Thol Thirumavalavan sealing the deal with six seats. Though the party was not entirely satisfied with the numbers allotted to it, the agreement to allow it contest on its own election symbol finalised the deal.

The Dravidian major, however, was not as lucky with its other partner -- MDMK. The party, headed by Vaiko, openly expressed its disgruntlement with the way the talks were going. This development has sparked tension in DMK circles as twice before, MDMK has ditched the DMK alliance on the eleventh hour due to disagreements over seat sharing.

Till 8pm on Thursday, according to sources, MDMK had not decided on the offer made by DMK. As MDMK high-level committee meeting is scheduled to be held on Saturday evening, an announcement is likely before that. So far, after four days of marathon talks, DMK has only been able to finalise seat-sharing agreements with three of its nine allies.

DMK is using the pressure applied by Congress to convince its smaller allies to be happy with fewer seats, said sources. "They are being told that if more seats are allocated to them, then DMK will be forced to cede further more to Congress," said a source. "While VCK, MDMK, and Left party aspirants are seen as DMK-leaning, Congress counterparts, from the DMK point of view, seem to be weak choices in the ideological war against BJP."

Though VCK has reached an agreement with DMK, it has clearly expressed its disappointment. "Though the party is not satisfied with the number of seats allotted to it, we have decided to accept the deal as the larger intention is to drive 'Sanathana forces' out of Tamil Nadu and to consolidate secular votes," said Thirumavalavan.

3 attack youth over social media post on Ram Temple, held

DIVYA CUTINHO @Mangaluru

UPPINANGADY police in Dakshina Kannada district have registered a case against five people for trespassing the house of a youth and abusing him for a social media post on Lord Rama.

Dakshina Kannada district police said that the main accused Ubaid and Mukunda, residents of Nekkiladi in Uppinangady police station limits were arguing for almost a month over a post on Lord Rama. "Mukunda had put up a WhatsApp status on building Ram mandir, a month ago. They have been arguing over the same ever since," SP said.

On March 2, Ubaid along with Farzeen, Rashid and 2 others, barged into Mukunda's residence at 11 pm. They illegally trespassed the gate, hit a parked car's tail light and hurled abuses at Mukunda. A case was registered the next day by Uppinangady police. "Three persons have been apprehended and efforts are being made to arrest others," SP said.

Meanwhile, BJP MP Shobha Karandlaje tweeted about the incident. "What was the sin of this family in Uppinangady in Dakshina Kannada District? They just posted hailing Lord Ram on social media, for which SDPI radicals attacked their house and abused the family with filthy language. How can we tolerate this? Spoke to DGP and SP of DK to take stringent action against them," she posted.

HC quashes notification for de-reserving forest land

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

IN a major setback to the state government, the Karnataka High Court on Thursday quashed the notification issued by the state government to de-reserve 260 acres of forest land in Kudi and Sooduru villages of Shivamogga district.

A division bench of Chief Justice Abhay Shreeniwas Oka and Justice S Vishwajith Shetty passed the order quashing the notification dated February 23, 2017, while allowing the public interest litigation filed by Gireesh Achar, resident of Punaji village of Hosanagar taluk of Shivamogga District, against de-reservation of forest land.

The court said it is the fundamental duty of every citizen to protect the forest. Apart from this, there is a well settled doctrine of public trust which is required to protect the forest. "We may note here that none of the notifications are gazetted as required under law. Hence, the petition is survived and the notification is quashed and set aside", the court said.

Discovery of Nisadis shows U-K dist's Jain connection

SUBHASH CHANDRA N S @Karwar

INDICATING deep roots of Jainism, historians have discovered two more Nisadis (memorial stones) dating back to the 12th century at Hiregutti village in Kumta of Uttara Kannada district. The expedition was carried out following a request from Ganapathi Naik Keremane, local historian. Based on the information, Ankola-based archeologist Shyamsunder Gouda and Dharwad region official R Sejeshwar Naik visited Hiregutti and found two Nisadis at Jaingadde in a private property.

According to Sejeshwar Naik, Hiregutti has many historical relics which have been tumbling out every now and then. "In addition to these two Nisadis, other inscriptions belonging to Buddhism and Shaivism were also found here. Now, we need to conduct a detailed research and study which can throw more light on the town's history. Other temple relics and inscriptions found here need to be protected. We will write to the government seeking permission for research and protection of inscriptions," he said.

Shyamasunder Gouda said the Nisadis were damaged on the top. "Despite the damage, we can read the inscriptions clearly. One of the inscriptions belongs to Jijanchi Nayak, who happens to be a disciple of Sakala Chandra Siddantha Deva, an ascetic who lived in that age. In the inscription, it is mentioned as Sakata Chandra Siddantha Devara Guddi," explained Gouda. The other inscription is of Guppi Basiddi, who is referred as Mangala Maha Sri Sri Sri.

Both the Nisadis have images of ascetics in meditation and women who performed Sallekhana (Purifying the soul by means of starvation till death). The black stone sculpture reflects the laborious effort of the sculptor.

These Nisadis belong to the 12th century AD, the age when Kadambas ruled Banavasi and Shishugal Pandyas ruled the coastal region.

DRAMATIC SASI LETTER MAY ADD ENERGY TO AIADMK CAMPAIGN

The dramatic late-evening announcement of V K Sasikala, former aide of J Jayalalithaa, to step aside from the political field a month ahead of the Assembly elections in Tamil Nadu could lead to a tectonic shift in the state's electoral landscape and improve the ruling AIADMK's chances at the hustings. The party, led by Chief Minister Edappadi K Palaniswami, has been consistent in its stand that it would not accommodate either Sasikala or the T T V Dhinakaran-led AMMK in its alliance. Apprehension in the ruling camp of Sasikala playing a spoiler ever since her release from prison on January 27 and her spectacular 23-hour road show all along the 347-km Bengaluru-Chennai highway on February 8 have come to an end for now. Palaniswami's firm line on Sasikala not only lifted the party's confidence quotient but also made it a tough negotiator with the BJP, which was rumoured to be egging the AIADMK to patch up with the AMMK so as to forge a common front against the DMK.

Wednesday night's announcement was meant to avoid a fractured mandate and end the lingering uncertainty over the Thevar vote swing, especially in the southern districts, considering that both Sasikala as well as Deputy Chief Minister O Panneerselvam belong to that caste. However, her cleverly worded letter that said she will "stay away from politics", but would pray for the "golden rule" of Jayalalithaa, does keep the door ajar for power play in the future. Anyway, she will not be able to contest any elections till 2027 under Section 8 of the Representation of the People's Act, 1958, as the law disqualifies people convicted for certain offences from running for office. Since Sasikala was convicted under Section 13(2) of the Prevention of Corruption Act, 1988, and sentenced to four years imprisonment along with a ₹10 crore fine in the disproportionate assets case, she can at best be a kingmaker for now.

Sasikala, who was expelled from the AIADMK in 2011 by Jayalalithaa and reinstated within 100 days, appears to be buying time till the election verdict is out.

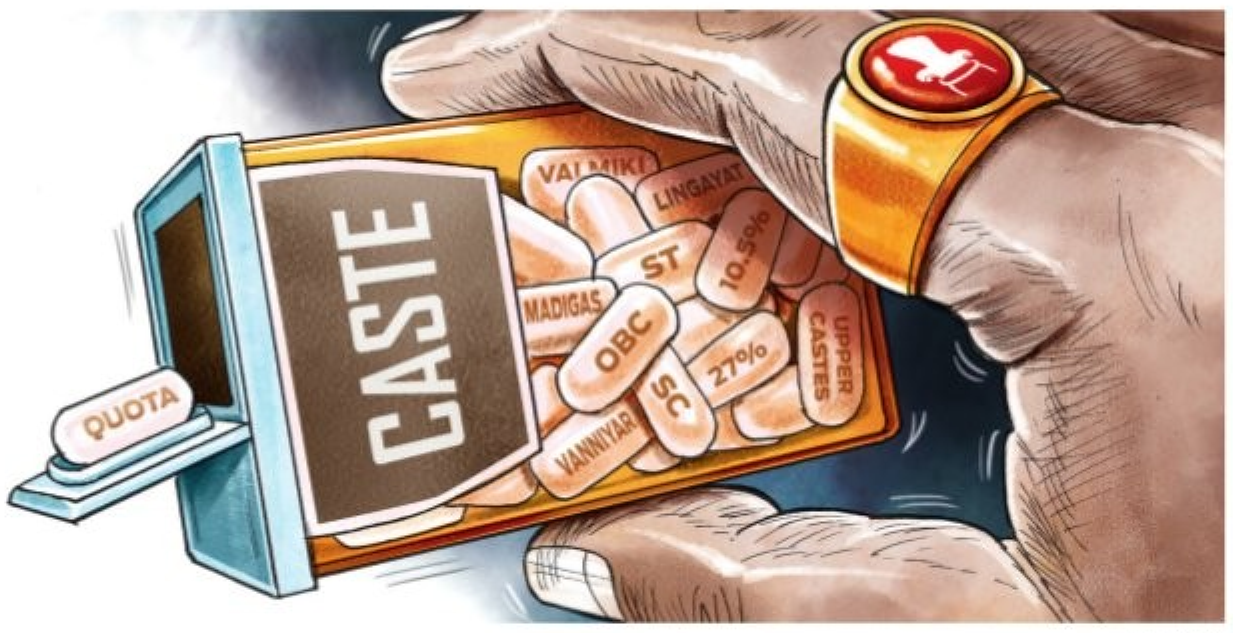
THREE CHALLENGES FOR KERALA PARTIES

The political significance of the Assembly polls underway in Kerala cannot be overstated. The outcome could decide the destiny of two traditional rivals—the CPM and Congress—that have dominated the political space for decades now. While the winner will survive, the loser could fall apart and cede ground to a rising BJP in the days to come. Equally significant, and disturbing, is the increasing criminalisation of state politics. So, while parties and fronts are engaged in parleys for dividing seats and picking contestants, a serious concern is there's little talk of fielding cleaner and better candidates. According to an analysis by the Association for Democratic Reforms, 65% of the outgoing MLAs are facing criminal cases and 21% have serious criminal charges pending. As much as 90% of the MPs elected from Kerala in 2019 had criminal charges pending, the highest among all states. The number of MLAs with a criminal background rose 17% in comparison to the previous Assembly. And most of them will likely contest again. A group of women activists has demanded that those with a history of violence against women and known for their anti-women stance be kept away from the fray, but parties are unlikely to pay attention.

Given how leaders from Kerala take pride in presenting a progressive picture of the state, highlighting its socio-economic parameters in contrast to those of other states, this poll should be treated as an opportunity to set an example. A clean-up is timely, and parties can take up three challenges in this regard. One, field as few candidates facing criminal charges as possible. Zero would be ideal. Two, pick more women to contest. Greater the number the better. The 140-strong Assembly has just nine women at present. Three, give preference to young and new faces. About 66% of the outgoing MLAs are in the 51 to 80 age group. Irrespective of the election outcome, the parties that take up these challenges would have ushered in a change. If not, this could turn out to be another usual electoral exercise that perpetuates the biases and flaws normally associated with politics in this country.

Is there anything specific to glean from the plan to redistribute quotas? There could be two important reasons besides electoral politics

MAKING SENSE OF THE ACTIVITY AROUND CASTE



AMIT BANDRE

SUGATA SRINIVASARAJU

Senior journalist and author

It suddenly appears that there is a lot of activity quietly happening around caste, more so in the southern states. This statement may be contested by the discerning, who may quite rightly ask, as to when had activity around caste in any part of India ever ceased or abated? True, but let's look at the activity, gauge the rush and then conjecture what provokes the movement.

In Karnataka, B S Yediyurappa has been put to test by the largest sub-caste among his own Lingayat community. The Panchamasalis held a huge demonstration before the close of February and demanded that they be put under the 2A category of reservation in the Other Backward Classes (OBC) list. A couple of weeks before them, one of the largest OBC communities in the state, the Kurubas, decided that they should intensify their demand to put the community under the Scheduled Tribe (ST) list. Opposition leader Siddaramaiah comes from this community, but he has been wary of this demand. However, the mobilisation worked out by his rivals in the community has left him somewhat isolated, as much as Yediyurappa feels cornered within his own community. The fundamental asset of these two leaders has been their caste identity politics.

Also in Karnataka, the Valmiki community has demanded internal reservation within the ST quota. They want their share enhanced to 7.5% of the total ST pie. The similar demand of the Madigas among the Scheduled Caste (SC) for internal reservation has been a few years old. They continue to press for the implementation of the Justice Sadashiva Commission report, which recommends this. Amidst these demands from the subalterns, the BJP government in July 2020 created the Karnataka Brahmin Development Board, and its new schemes made news in February. As if on cue, a couple of days ago, it was reported that a serving IPS officer in Bihar had demanded a separate ministry for the socially and economically backward upper castes.

If one looks at Tamil Nadu, the bill to group seven SC communities as Devendrakula Velalars was tabled in the Lok Sabha, in mid-February. Internal reservation of 10.5% within the Most Backward Classes and Denotified Communities for the Vanniyar community was also cleared by the Tamil Nadu governor days before the Assembly election schedule was announced. All these demands may have been brewing over time, but the timing of their culmination is to be understood, and elections are only a limited excuse. There is a larger and long-term concern, or game, depending on how one views it.

In early March, Odisha said that it would start its survey of the OBCs in May. Karnataka had done a survey of the castes when Siddaramaiah was chief minister, but he had dithered over releasing it. Meanwhile, the Justice G Rohini Commission set up by the Modi government has been examining OBC categories to reorganise its 27% quota in Central government jobs and educational institutions. It apparently plans to have four sub-categories. A former judge of the Andhra Pradesh High Court and former chairman of the National Commission for Backward Classes, Justice Eshwaraiah, said a week ago that the methodology being used by the Justice Rohini Commission is "unscientific, atrocious and illegal." Meanwhile, the Andhra Pradesh government in October 2020 had set up 56 corporations for the welfare of 56 separate castes. This was in the place of one single corporation earlier.

In the middle of all this turmoil is one of the final judgments of Justice Arun Mishra of the Supreme Court that advocated internal reservations. Mishra is the same judge who had praised prime minister Modi as a 'visionary' and a 'versatile genius'. The judgment had said: "When reservation creates inequalities within the reserved castes itself, it is required to be taken care of by the State making sub-classification and adopting a distributive justice method so that State largesse does not concentrate in few hands and equal justice to all is provided."

What are we to make of the scenario painted above? Is there anything specific to glean from the plan to redistribute quota? There could be two large reasons besides electoral politics, which is of limited utilitarian value. The first reason could be rather lazy and benign: The socio-economic backwardness is still so worrisome that governments in power, pressured to offer results and quick transformation, may be constantly tempted to tinker with quotas to ensure that the scaffolding built around hope remains intact. It is a kind of excuse, a fig leaf, for non-development and absence of progress. People are cleverly made to assume that since the quota formula is being rejigged, if not theirs, at least lives of their next generation would look up. It becomes an alibi for the perpetual postponement of work.

The second reason could be ideological. If there is clamour for internal reservation, and if the quota pie is too narrowly sliced and redistributed, the advantage would be so minimal and competition still intense that people may see little hope in reservations. It may put a powerful group among subalterns, who had till now cornered the largesse, in conflict with numerically larger subgroups. Internal reservations may lead to internal dissension. This will alter the dynamics of electoral politics.

The expectation from this experiment is that people will get disenchanted with their caste identities and may prefer to gradually regroup under a larger identity, perhaps a religious one. This is an experiment that creates a mirage of a flatter landscape. Although seemingly naive in its assumption, this entails calculations deeper than what is apparent. The idea of one nation-one language-one religion-one emotion and eventually, the sway of a single party on a polity and society may work quietly for an older status quo and stratification among castes.

MICROBIAL MUTATIONS: TO CHASE A CROOKED SPIKE

DR K SRINATH REDDY

Cardiologist, epidemiologist & President, Public Health Foundation of India (PHFI)

"It is our wits against their genes." This succinct observation of Joshua Lederberg on microbes was published in the journal Science in 2000. Lederberg was very well qualified to make this comment. He had won the Nobel Prize for Medicine in 1958 for his pioneering work on microbial genetics. He also cautioned against using war like metaphors such as 'eradication' loosely against the microbes, reminding us that most microbes will coexist with us in an ecological balance.

In establishing such a relationship, microbes are propelled by ecological and evolutionary forces. Ecological changes bring them into contact with human species when deforestation brings forest-dwelling microbes into contact with humans, directly or via an intermediate animal host. The ability of the microbial species to survive subsequently depends on its ability to evolve to a state where it can continue to infect a host species but does not wipe it out. To be so virulent as to eliminate the host species would be a dead end for the microbe. Humans will fight the microbe with their immunological response, vaccines and drugs. The much larger human body evolves very slowly, while the minuscule microbial species evolves very rapidly. So microbial mutations mostly set the pace for determining the nature of our coexistence.

Microbial mutations can occur through 'antigenic drift' or 'antigenic shift'. Antigenic drift is when a virus has mutations in its proteins that make it partially resistant to the immune mechanisms that have developed in a human population. Antigenic shift is more threatening, as two or more viruses exchange their genetic material to create a new entity that is totally unfamiliar to the body's immune system.

In the past three months, global alarm has mounted over variants reported from mutants of the SARS-CoV2 virus that have a more infectious character than the previously prevalent version. They represent the products of antigenic drift, developed under the evolutionary pressure of lockdowns, masks, physical distancing and vaccines that are slowing down the spread of the virus. At least one of them, from South Africa, has been found to substantially reduce the efficacy of vaccines in preventing infections, amounting to 'vaccine escape'.

The mutations have been mainly in the 'spike protein' of the virus. This appears as crown-like spikes on the surface of the coronavirus. These spikes are used by the virus to attach to ACE2 receptors on the surface of human cells and then prise open the entry into the cell. The mutations are aimed at making the attachment and entry easier. Mutants can also arise by mistakes committed when the virus uses host genetic material to make its copies. The RNA viruses do not have the mechanism to 'edit' those mistakes. So the viruses keep making mutants, some of which are useful for propagation and preservation of the species and others that soon fade away as they confer no evolutionary advantage.

Several mutants of the SARS-CoV2 virus have emerged over the past 14 months. Most of them did not attract public attention, appearing as mere extras in the crowd scene of the pandemic. A few others have risen to stardom, with greater infectivity to grab more screen time and some even displaying the audacity of staging a 'vaccine escape' to create more dread. Their names are complicated, with alphabets and numerals indicating the site of the mutation, the original amino acid and the substituted amino acid. Despite the scientific recommendation to avoid pejoratively linking the mutant with a country or province, the given codes are not easy to report in the media. Hence people still refer by the name of the place where they were first reported.

The first to hit the headlines was B1.1.7 (UK-Kent), which was reported to have a 70% higher infectivity rate. Though higher virulence too was suggested later, there is no clear evidence of that. The next was B.1.351 (South Africa), which was reported to be not only more infectious but also less vulnerable to vaccine induced immunity. P.1, reported from Brazil, also shares a mutation at E.484.K location with the South African variant. Apart from a low efficacy rate reported for the AstraZeneca vaccine against the mutant reported from South Africa, even the J&J vaccine has shown lower efficacy in South Africa and Latin America than in the US in the trial. The Novavax trial too reported 49% efficacy against the South African variant, contrasting with 89% efficacy in the UK.

Some of the vaccine platforms, such as the mRNA vaccines, can be tweaked, in six-eight weeks, to adapt the immune response to the variants that have been detected. It is also possible that vaccines that are not limited to the spike protein antigen and offer more antigens of the virus as targets for the immune response may fare well against the mutants that rely on spike protein changes. Inactivated virus vaccines belong to this group. Even as we await the vaccines to adapt their antigens, to mount a stronger defence against the variants, we must recognise that the primary protection comes from preventing the infection itself. Whatever the mutation, masks, hand washing, physical distancing and ventilation will prevent viral entry into the body.

Indeed, it is our wits that we must depend on to overcome the microbes, even as their genes play tricks on us by masquerading as mutants.

Boost to AIADMK

V K Sasikala's announcement that she will stay away from politics is undoubtedly a boost to the ruling AIADMK in Tamil Nadu and can help the party sail smoothly in the upcoming Assembly polls. If the AIADMK wins in the elections, a suitable position in the party can be given to her.

Curbing dissent, again

The US-based Freedom House ranking of India as "partly free" is an eye-opener to the Indian voters who voted Modi to power for the second time. The I-T raids against actor Taapsee Pannu and director Anurag Kashyap after they raised their voices against the Centre's policies is one more pointer towards the curtailment of freedom of speech in India.

'Govt will partner with OTT players'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@New Delhi

ASSERTING that the new guidelines on digital media focused on "self-classification of content", Union Minister for Information and Broadcasting Prakash Javadekar on Thursday said the government and the OTT platforms would partner together to make the audience's experience better.

After a meeting with representatives of OTT platforms such as Netflix, Amazon Prime, Hotstar and Alt Balaji, Javadekar tweeted that he "explained the provisions of the OTT rules" and that "all representatives have welcomed the new guidelines".

Addressing the representatives of the industry, the minister said the government had held several rounds of consultation with OTT players in the past and stressed the need for self-regulation, a statement by the Ministry of Information and Broadcasting (MIB) said.

Javadekar told the representatives that the OTT platforms are expected to develop an effective grievance redressal mechanism. While no member will be appointed by the government in the self-regulating body, the government will create an inter-departmental committee to look at complaints which remain "unresolved at the self-regulatory level".

Bu legal experts and activists have criticised the move.

OTT platforms need screening as some of them show porn: SC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@New Delhi

EXPRESSING concern over the unbridled streaming of content on over-the-top (OTT) platforms such as Netflix and Amazon Prime, the Supreme Court on Thursday said a few platforms even show "pornographic materials" and that there should be a mechanism to screen such programmes.

A bench headed by Justice Ashok Bhushan asked Solicitor General Tushar Mehta to submit by Friday the government's recent guidelines to regulate social media, messaging and streaming platforms.

The observation came while the bench was hearing the plea of Amazon Prime Video's India head Aparna Purohit challenging the Allahabad High Court order rejecting her anticipatory bail in connection with FIRs lodged against her over the controversial Tandav web series.

"A balance has to be struck as some OTT platforms are also showing pornographic materials on their platforms," said the bench, also comprising Justice R S Reddy.

Senior advocate Mukul Rohatgi, appearing for Purohit, termed the case against her as 'shocking'. Purohit is just an employee of Amazon, Rohatgi said, adding she is neither a producer nor an actor but still has been made an accused in around 10 cases related to the web series across the country.

Purohit has been accused of inappropriate depiction of UP police personnel, Hindu deities and adverse portrayal of a character playing the prime minister in the web series.

Tandav is a political thriller starring Bollywood A-listers including Saif Ali Khan.

Asks central government to explain rationale behind restricting jabs to certain age groups

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

QUESTIONING the Centre over strictly controlling the class of persons who can be vaccinated against Covid-19, the Delhi High Court on Thursday asked it to explain the rationale behind the present system in which those above the age of 60 years or with comorbidities can receive the jabs.

The high court felt the two institutes — Pune-based Serum Institute of India and Hyderabad-based Bharat Biotech— which manufacture the vaccines Covishield and Covaxin, respectively, have more production capacity but their full potential is not being exploited.

"We are not utilising it fully. We are either donating or selling it to foreign countries and are not vaccinating our own people. So there has to be that sense of responsibility and urgency," a bench of Justices Vipin Sanghi and Rekha Palli said.

The high court directed the two institutes to file separate affidavits on their capacity to manufacture the vaccines on per day/week/ month basis and also how much unused capacity is lying and whether the two firms can scale up the production.

"The Centre shall explain the rationale behind keeping strict control over class of persons who can be vaccinated as noticed in our last order. Under the present system, persons above 60 years of age and between 45 to 60 years with co-morbidities can receive the vaccine. An affidavit to be filed by the Centre disclosing the rationale for such classification," it said.

Meanwhile, the bench also asked the Delhi government to carry out inspection of medical facilities available in court complexes and to report if Covid-19 vaccination centres could be set up there and also the shortcomings of the facilities.

The court slated the hearing for March 10.

The high court was hearing a PIL initiated by it to examine the demand of Bar Council of Delhi (BCD) to declare all people associated with judicial functioning as frontline workers so that they could receive the vaccine on priority basis and irrespective of their age or physical condition.

The high court also asked the Delhi High Court Bar Association and BCD to disclose the strength of members registered with them.

RECEIVING the award, Parliament member P C Mohan said the way the city is handling the smart city works is commendable. Bengaluru also scored because it was the first to create a Covid-19 war room. The city is also creating cycle tracks and work is on to make the core city area a cycling space.

Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike Commissioner N Manjunatha Prasad said marks were given based on the works done and citizens' feedback. The city has 1,500 parks, 210 lakes and 141 primary health care centres. "We need to find where we lost and by how many marks in the municipal reforms category. We need to improve there. The number one position has now made the task more challenging as it is important to sustain and improve the score. We need to work with all parastatal agencies and stakeholders. Citizens also need to be more involved and roped in decision-making," he said.

Union Housing Minister Hardeep Singh Puri said the Smart City mission was started in 2015 and ever since, every city is working on improving itself. The Ease of Living index is a means to see how urban services are. The experiences generated and lessons learnt have been accounted into a book, he pointed out while noting that there are no 100 per cent greenfield smart cities.

Puri stressed to civic agency officials of all states that the Smart City mission should be taken seriously. "It has been noticed that officials are changed frequently and they are given multiple roles. The Smart City project was conceived based on the thinking of citizens. But now we may have to do some rethinking. It is better that officials assigned to these duties are kept separate and management should be clear. I will also write to the chief ministers on this," he added.

The ranking system harnesses the idea of competitiveness to propel cities into performing better with the aim to climb higher on the rankings

India bats for inclusion of Chabahar Port in international freight corridor

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

INDIA on Thursday proposed the inclusion of Chabahar Port in the International North South Transport Corridor (INSTC) and expressed hope that member states will agree to the proposal.

Located in Iran and operated by India, Chabahar's strategic position provides connectivity between India, Iran, Afghanistan, the Commonwealth of Independent States (CIS) and Uzbekistan.

"I am hopeful that during the INSTC Coordination Council meeting, member states would agree to the expansion of the INSTC route to include the Chabahar Port and also agree on expanding the membership of this project. We also welcome the interest of Uzbekistan and Afghanistan to join the multilateral corridor project. Establishing an eastern corridor through Afghanistan would maximise its potential," External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar said during his address at the Chabahar Day event at the Maritime India Summit.

The International North South Transport Corridor is a 7,200-km-long multi-mode transport project used for moving freight between India, Iran, Afghanistan, Armenia, Azerbaijan, Russia, the Central Asia and Europe.

Jaishankar said unprecedented connectivity opportunities are being created in Asia as the fulcrum of global economic growth is shifting towards the region. "The marking of Chabahar Day by India reflects its strong commitment to enhancing regional connectivity," he added.

Maritime security, the external affairs minister said, has played a key role in creating regional corridors for trade and economic linkages as well as cultural exchanges.

Jaishankar in Dhaka ahead of PM's upcoming visit

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

EXTERNAL Affairs Minister S Jaishankar on Thursday said India viewed Bangladesh as a valued partner not only in South Asia, but also in the broader Indo-Pacific region.

Stressing on India's 'Neighbourhood First' and 'Act East' policies, Jaishankar said, "We see Bangladesh as a key neighbour and a valued partner not only in South Asia but also in the broader Indo-Pacific region. Every achievement in our relationship resonates through this region. It is no secret that we cite it to others as an example," Jaishankar said during his joint press conference with Bangladeshi foreign minister AK Abdul Momen.

The external affairs minister arrived in Dhaka for a day-long visit during which he met Momen and held wide-ranging discussions. He is also expected to meet Bangladesh Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina. Jaishankar's visit is being seen as a precursor to PM Modi's visit to Dhaka later this month, when he is likely to flag-off a direct passenger train between Dhaka and New Jalpaiguri.

"Our comfort levels are now so high that we have shown that there is no issue that we cannot discuss and resolve through amicable dialogue," he added.

Jaishankar said it was a matter of satisfaction that the pandemic did not prove to be a hurdle between Indo-Bangladesh interactions. "Even the pandemic provided an opportunity to re-affirm our friendship. Bangladesh is the largest recipient of Indian-made vaccines. It is really appropriate that Bangladesh received our largest gift of 2 million vaccines," he said.

Searches on Taapsee, Anurag still on; IT dept claims ₹650-cr manipulation

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

AMID ongoing searches on Bollywood director Anurag Kashyap and actress Taapsee Pannu, the Income Tax department on Thursday claimed it has found out financial irregularities to the tune of ₹650 crore at a few film production houses and talent management companies.

"Evidence related to manipulation and under-valuation of share transactions of the production house among the film directors and shareholders, having tax implication of about ₹350 crore has been found and is being further investigated," a statement from the Central Board of Direct Taxes (CBDT) said without taking out any names.

The IT department, since Wednesday, has been conducting searches at 30 locations in Mumbai, Pune and Delhi, in connection with alleged tax evasion by the now-shut Phantom Films linked filmmaker Anurag Kashyap and his partners, and actress Taapsee Pannu.

The searches caused huge backlash on social media as both the director and actor have been critical of the BJP-led central government. The raid was termed by many as an act of "vendetta".

"Many discrepancies were detected. Also there was huge suppression of income compared to the actual box office collections. We had worked on our findings and it is improper to link it with their political views," a senior IT department official, who is involved in the probe, claimed.

The official said the production house was not able to explain discrepancy of around ₹300 crore. Apart from that there is a case of under-valuation of share transactions of Phantom Films among the film director and shareholders, having tax implication of about ₹350 crore. Hence, the officials suspected total evasion to the tune of ₹650 crore. The CBDT also claimed Pannu received ₹5 crore fee in cash for which no record was kept.

ASSEMBLY ELECTION 2021 DECIDE

BJP has 10k aspirants for 294 Bengal seats

State leaders in Delhi to finalise candidates for Assembly polls, brainstorming over person to take on CM Mamata

PRANAB MONDAL @ Kolkata

WITH a bagful of 10,000 applications received in drop boxes along with recommendations from district functionaries, BJP'S West Bengal leadership reached Delhi on Thursday to finalise the list of candidates to take on the ruling Trinamool Congress in the upcoming Assembly elections.

"We wanted to know who are among our supporters to contest the elections. We placed three drop boxes, from which we received 10,000 applicants. Besides, our district functionaries gave a list of 120 candidates to contest in the first two phases,'' said a BJP leader. Bengal has 294 Assembly seats.

Sources in the party said announcing the final list of candidates might trigger discontent among the party's old footsoldiers. "The party might field the turncoats in this election. Our committed workers might not accept it. For example, a person from Burdwan district reached the party's Kolkata headquarters with his wife demanding a ticket to fight in the elections,'' said a BJP leader.

Sources said al least 15 legislators who defected from TMC will get tickets to contest. Besides, 12 personalities from the Bengali film and television industry will also be fielded, according to a senior BJP leader.

The saffron camp is still trying to make inroads in Bengal's culture clan. "We have a hunch that the ruling TMC will follow its tradition of fielding star candidates and celebrities from other walks of life. We adopted the same modus operandi and are ready to give the ruling party a surprise by inducting faces who are public figures,'' said another BJP leader.

Sources in BJP said the issue of taking on Mamata Banerjee, if she contests from the Nandigram constituency, is the party's prime concern. "We have recommended that Mamata's former lieutenant Suvendu Adhikary be fielded against her. If they approve it, it will be the fight of the decade,'' said the BJP leader.

Adhikary in his rallies has said that he will defeat Mamata by over 50,000 votes, no matter which consituency. A movement in Nandigram was the key to TMC's success in 2011.

JDU likely to fight in 22 seats

Patna: Bihar's ruling Junta Dal (United) has started chalking out strategies for poll-bound Assam and West Bengal. In West Bengal, JDU is likely to contest in 22 seats, mainly in Hindi-speaking areas. Since JDU and BJP are in alliance in the Bihar government, it will be watched with keen interest how the former handles the campaigning part, whether it takes a soft stand on BJP or not. So far, senior JDU leaders have been tight-lipped on this.

Hailing Mamata as the "real Bengal tigress", Sena vowed to "stand in solidarity" with TMC . Senior Shiv Sena leader and Rajya Sabha MP Sanjay Raut made the announcement and said that the decision was taken following discussions with senior party officials.

Saffron goes to EC, TMC demands removal of Jain

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

THE BJP on Thursday approached the Election Commission against municipal administrators in West Bengal, alleging that they continue to function in their roles even after the end of their five-year tenure. The party also claimed that the Trinamool Congress-led state government has not held municipal elections fearing loss of face in the run-up to the Assembly polls.

In a memorandum to the EC, BJP stated that 125 of the 135 municipal bodies in the state completed their tenures in April-May last year. But no polls have been held yet. "Apprehending failure in the municipal elections which could have ramifications in the Assembly, TMC influenced the state election commission and got municipal polls postponed," alleged the memorandum submitted by a BJP delegation consisting of the party's national general secretary Bhupender Yadav, Union Minister Dharmendra Pradhan and others.

The TMC, on the other hand, have demanded the removal of deputy election commissioner Sudip Jain, who is in-charge of the state. They accused him of being biased against them. TMC spokesperson Sougata Roy said party leader Derek O' Brien has written to the Election Commission demanding that Jain be removed as he was biased against them t during 2019 Lok Sabha polls.

"During Parliamentary polls, Sudeep Jain had taken several steps which were not only against the norms of the Election Commission but also against those of the federal structure. We don't have any faith in him. We (TMC) apprehend that this time, too, he will take steps which will either directly or indirectly help the BJP," Roy said at a press conference.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mumbai

A Maharashtra government report has rejected allegations that police personnel forced inmates of a state government-run women's hostel to strip and dance on March 1 in Jalgaon. State home minister Anil Deshmukh on Thursday said the government had appointed six women members, including additional district collector Trupti Dodmise, psychologists Dr Kanchan Patil and Dr Kanchan Chavan and sub-inspector Kanchan Kale, to probe the incident. The members recorded statements of 40 people, including 17 women of Ashadeep women's hostel, Jalgaon.

The report said the alleged incident of local police personnel forcing the women to strip and dance at the hostel did not take place. "In fact, the hostel women were having a cultural programme and they were performing a garba dance. Someone shot a video which got viral, with insinuations that women were forced to strip and dance. When this video was checked thoroughly, nothing of the sort came out. Besides, no one came forward with the purported video despite several police requests," Deshmukh said in the Assembly.

The minister said due to the loud music, "someone from the hostel complained to the police, saying a nude dance was going on". "We checked the background of the woman complainant and the probe team members were told that she was not mentally stable. There was no evidence in the allegations," Deshmukh said.

BJP legislator Sweta Mahale had raised the issue during the ongoing budget session of the state assembly, leading to a ruckus. The women's hostel is run for the destitute women who are abandoned by their husbands or families and those rescued in human trafficking.

BJP objects to campaign photos, Cong refutes claim

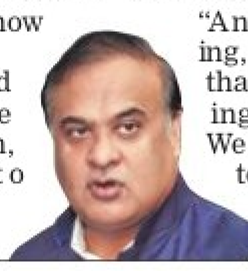
PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ Guwahati

TWO tea garden photos have triggered a controversy in poll-bound Assam.

The state's Finance Minister Himanta Biswa Sarma claimed photos from Taiwan were being used by the Congress on its Assam campaign page. The Congress rubbished it as "fake". The party decided to lodge a complaint with the Election Commission of India.

"Official Congress campaign page is using photo of tea garden from Taiwan to say 'Assam Bachao' (save Assam). Congress leaders can't even recognise Assam? This is an insult of Assam and Tea Garden workers of our state," Sarma tweeted, sharing screenshot of one of the photos.

He shared the other photo in another tweet. "First Congress couldn't identify Assam, now Congress can't even recognise Assamese people. This is again a pic from Taiwan. Congress leaders have forgotten Assam. Let's show @INCIndia how beautiful our land is."



The Congress accused the BJP, which heads the state's ruling coalition, of resorting to propaganda.

"BJP is rattled. As people are connecting with the Congress and looking for progress to come back, the BJP, bereft of any issue to sell to people of Assam after their game of promises, is resorting to such false propaganda against us," Congress leader Bobeeta Sarma said. She said the minister should have verified the photos before using them.

"And if deliberately using, then it is unfortunate that a minister is resorting to false propaganda. We are filing a complaint to EC," she added.

Under "Assam Bachao", Congress leaders took out bus rides across the state to meet voters and understand their problems.

The focus of BJP and Congress is on tea garden votes this election. Assam has 126 Assembly segments and in around one-third of them, votes of tea workers determine the fate of candidates.

Hiking their daily wage to ₹365 is one of the five-point "guarantees" of the Congress. The BJP too doled out money to the workers and took up other welfare initiatives to attract voters from the plantations.

Promise of 50% job reservation for women

Guwahati: The Congress said on Thursday that if its alliance is voted to power in Assam, it will ensure 50 per cent reservation for women in government jobs. Addressing the media, All India Mahila Congress president Sushmita Dev said the Congress-led alliance will focus on the upliftment of women and youth. "When the Congress-led grand alliance will form the government, we will implement 50 per cent reservation for women. This will be one of the first things we'll do," she said. She asserted that the alliance believes in accountability and performance.

Sidhu critical of state & Central governments

Chandigarh: Former Punjab cabinet minister Navjot Singh Sidhu took a dig at his own Congress government, saying that it needs to bring in new legislations to ensure Minimum Support Price on lentils and oilseeds to encourage farmers to get out of the wheat-rice cycle that get MSP from the Union Government. He also flayed the BJP-led NDA Government over three farm laws. "We should make our own laws which have nothing to do with the Centre," he said.

Three security men die in IED blast by Naxals

Ranchi: Three security personnel were killed and two injured in a Naxal-triggered IED blast in the forests of Jharkhand's West Singhbhum district on Thursday. Three men of the special unit of the state police, Jharkhand Jaguars, were killed in the blast that took place at around 8:45 am in Hoyahatu village under Toklo police station. A jawan of the Jharkhand Jaguars and a Central Reserve Police Force personnel from its 197th battalion were injured in the blast, officials announced.

Cops among 20 from Myanmar cross to Mizoram

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Guwahati

AT least 20 Myanmar nationals including policemen have crossed over to Mizoram seeking refuge. Locals estimate this number to be around 50. Some suggest 19 of them are policemen. Till late in the evening, there was no clarity over numbers or the reason of these persons crossing over into India.

It is learnt that four of them entered Mizoram from Champhai district and three from Serchip district. Serchip authorities confirmed this. They said that "more have come" without giving exact numbers.

"We can't say at this moment if they are policemen. They have been lodged at a community hall in Lungkawlh village (around 8 kms from the international border) after they entered Mizoram yesterday," a senior official said about the first three. Stating that they have been provided food and security, he said the administration is checking their credentials.

Extension for delimitation, J&K parties fear poll delay

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

WITH the Central government extending the term of the Delimitation Commission — formed to redraw Parliamentary and Assembly constituencies in Jammu and Kashmir — by one year, political parties are apprehensive that this will lead to further delay in Assembly elections.

Strength of the J&K Assembly is likely to increase by seven seats after the delimitation exercise. The House presently has 83 seats (46 in Kashmir and 37 in Jammu). The Assembly was dissolved in June, 2018. Since its special status was scrapped in August, 2019, and bifurcation of the region in two Union Territories, J&K is under direct Central rule.

"It seems the government does not want to hold J&K Assembly elections anytime soon. The Delimitation Commission remained stationed in Delhi and when its term was about to expire, it visited J&K and sought more time," J&K Congress spokesman Ravindra Sharma said.

Senior vice-president of Apni Party, Ghulam Hassan Mir, said the election process will start after the Delimitation Commission completes its work. "People want an end to bureaucratic rule and want an elected government. A longer Governor rule cannot be a replacement for an elected government".

Senior BJP leader and J&K Deputy Chief Minister Kavinder Gupta said: "The Commission has got an extension. It doesn't mean elections cannot be held this year."

Mirwaiz set free, to address Friday prayers

J&K authorities on Thursday lifted restrictions on the movement of moderate Hurriyat Conference chairman Mirwaiz Umar Farooq, who was under house arrest from August 2019. He is all set to address a first Friday congregational prayer since then at Jamia Masjid in Srinagar.

Pakistan-returnee Geeta finds family in Maharashtra after two decades

Geeta with her elder sister | EXPRESS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bhopal

GEETA, 30, a hearing impaired woman who returned from Pakistan in 2015 following efforts by then External Affairs Minister Sushma Swaraj, is possibly Radha from the Marathwada region of Maharashtra who went missing aged 10 in 2001.

Owing to sustained efforts by NGOs Anand Service Society and Pahal Foundation, Geeta has been reunited with her "most likely" mother Lata and elder sister Pooja Bansode in the town of Jintur.

After more than five years at the NGOs, Geeta is with Pahal Foundation, whose founder Aniket Selganokar (who, too, is hearing impaired) is helping her prepare for her Class VIII exams. After that, the Foundation plans to get her a job. "Geeta has been with us since July 2020. We had been looking for her family. Based on inputs given about her childhood through sign language, we were zeroing in on Bihar, Chhattisgarh and Telangana," said Gyanendra and Monika Purohit, a social activist couple.

Last November, the Purohits went to help the police in Dewas district of MP in probing a case when they met a girl who had the right side of her nose pierced, just like Geeta. "That girl told us she hailed from Jalna district, making us focus on Marathwada region for tracing Geeta's family," he added.

"In December, we met a policeman in Parbhani who claimed to know Geeta's family. Contact was established with her elder sister, who lives in Gangakhed and mother Lata."

On Lata's information, identical branding marks on Geeta and Pooja's bodies were found, nearly confirming that Geeta was Lata's missing daughter.

Uddhav speeches strike emotional chord

Maharashtra Chief Minister Uddhav Thackeray was known for his mild and boring speeches, despite carrying the legacy of his father and firebrand orator, the late Balasaheb Thackeray. But after taking charge as chief minister, Uddhav's speeches have become sharper and wittier with full of punch. In the Maharashtra Assembly's budget session, he has attacked the opposition on various issues and played on the front foot. But even though these speeches are going viral, they continue to be low on data and information. Uddhav remains more comfortable delivering the emotional staff.

IAS Pardeshi returns, but where does he fit in?

Praveen Pardeshi, a 1985 batch IAS officer, was shunted out as Brihanmumbai Municipal Commissioner after a big surge in Covid-19 cases in Mumbai last year. Known to be close to the former chief minister, Pardeshi left to take up the post of Global Programme Coordinator at the United Nations Institute of Training and Research (UNITR) in Geneva last August instead of looking for a placement in Maharashtra. He had a chance to become the chief secretary of Maharashtra and rushed back to rejoin the state cadre last month. But given that his batch mate Sitaram Kunte has been given that position, it would be interesting to see what Pardeshi does as a next step. Will he go back to central deputation or stay back in Maharashtra? Time will tell.

BJP scores a point in Rathod resignation

Budget session of the Maharashtra Assembly has been fruitful for Opposition so far. Chief MInister Uddhav Thackeray was initially reluctant to accept the resignation of Forest Minister Sanjay Rathod in connection with the suicide case of Tiktok personality Pooja Rathod. Sanjay is a prominent Banjara community leader. Uddhav knows that losing him and his influence will not be good for his coalition government. But by constantly attacking the government, BJP has achieved its primary goal of having Rathod out of the cabinet. How BJP leaders build on this will be keenly followed.

Ex-chief secy to head electricity regulatory unit

Sanjay Kumar may have retired as Chief Secretary of Maharashtra on February 28, but he is not going do disappear from public eye anytime soon. Kumar has applied for the post of chairman in the Maharashtra Electricity Regulatory Commission, along with another former Chief Secretary, Ajoy Mehta. However, since Mehta has already joined the Maharashtra State Real Estate Regulatory Authority (MahaRera) as its chairman, the decks have been cleared for Kumar to take up the Electricity Regulatory Commission chairman's post, considering that he is the only contender now. This post has been lying vacant since the retirement of Anand Kulkarni.

Imran to seek trust vote after election defeat

Comes as his party loses hotly contested Senate seat

ISLAMABAD

PAKISTAN Prime Minister Imran Khan will seek a vote of confidence from the National Assembly this weekend to prove he still has the support of majority lawmakers in the house, despite the defeat of his ruling party's key candidate in Senate's elections, a Cabinet minister said on Thursday.

If Khan fails to win the vote of confidence, Pakistan could face another phase of political turmoil. The vote is due on Saturday.

The ruling Tehreek-e-Insaf party's candidate Hafeez Sheikh lost a hotly contested election for a seat in the Senate, or upper house of parliament, against former Prime Minister Yusuf Raza Gilani, who won in a 169-164 vote.

In his address to the nation on Thursday, Khan lashed out at the grand Opposition alliance for "making a mockery of democracy" and said that he will never let the corrupt off the hook.

"The one who becomes a senator and wants to become one uses money and who do they buy? So I was surprised when I came to know and since then I started a campaign that what joke is happening with our democracy?" he asked.

Imran Khan's party has 157 members in the 342-member lower house

Poll body slammed

Pakistan Prime Minister Imran Khan attacked the Election Commission of Pakistan which he said failed to stop corruption in the elections. "You (ECP) discredited democracy, you damaged the morality of the nation by doing nothing to stop vote-buying," he said. Khan claimed his party members were offered Rs 200 crore to buy votes and 15-16 members of his party sold themselves

"I will take a vote of confidence the day after tomorrow (Saturday). I will ask my members to show if they have confidence in me. If they say they have no confidence, I will sit on Opposition benches," the 68-year-old said.

"If I am out of the government, I will go to the people and bring them out to continue my struggle for the country. I will not let these traitors (who plundered the country) sit in peace. I call them traitors because they are looters," Khan said.

Senate elections were seen as a test for Khan, who came to power in the 2018 parliamentary elections. Though Khan improved his standing in the 100-member Senate, Sheikh's defeat was a setback for his government.

Hussain, the science and technology minister, also said that senators are expected to vote in the coming days on a new chairman of the Senate. The incumbent, Sadiq Sanjrani, is to be the ruling party's candidate again. Gilani is likely to contest the vote for the chairman.

Gilani's success in the Senate indicates that some of the ruling party's lawmakers had rebelled.

Khan's party has 157 members in the 342-member National Assembly. Opposition PML-N and PPP have 84 and 54 members. The latest rift highlights the brittleness of Pakistan's political system, notorious for shifting loyalties of politicians and a whimsical establishment that wants to keep its interests above everything in every government.

More protests after Myanmar crackdown

YANGON

DEFIANT anti-coup protesters returned to the streets across Myanmar on Thursday, a day after the deadliest crackdown by the country's junta that left at least 38 people dead.

Demonstrators returned to the streets again in Yangon and Mandalay, the nation's two biggest cities, as well as other towns that have been hotspots for unrest.

In recent days, Yangon's San Chaung township has descended into chaos as security forces massed there to stop anti-coup protesters from gathering.

A residential neighbourhood known for its hip cafes, restaurants and bars, its streets on Thursday were transformed with barricades built from sandbags, tyres, bricks and barbed wire.

Passersby walked on images of junta leader Min Aung Hlaing, which protesters plastered on the ground to slow chasing security forces who will avoid stepping on the portraits.

"Yesterday was horrific... it was devastating to learn the military in Myanmar has never changed since 1962," activist Thinzar Shunlei Yi said.

"But resistance is now our duty," she said, pledging to protest every day. The junta has sought to hide its crackdown from the rest of the world, choking the internet and banning Facebook—the most popular social media platform.

However protesters, citizen journalists and some media groups have continued to send images out of Myanmar, and on Thursday the funeral of a 19-year-old woman killed in Mandalay was streamed live on Facebook.

The victim, Kyal Sin, had been wearing a T-shirt emblazoned with "Everything will be OK" in big letters on the front when she was shot in the head. "She was very angry about what was happening around the country," said her friend Linlae Waddy. "She always said she needed to protest for the country."

In Yangon's North Okkalapa—where at least six demonstrators were killed by security forces—a makeshift shrine was created where a protester was slain. Arranging tyres and traffic cones around the leftover blood stains on the road, protesters left flowers for the dead. "We are demanding our mother (Aung San Suu Kyi) back and the power returned in the people's hands," said Kyaw Tayzar, adding that he was "ready to die" for the cause.

British Prime Minister Boris Johnson said on Thursday he was "horrified" by the escalation of violence in Myanmar and called for an end to military repression in the country.

"We stand with the people of Myanmar in calling for an immediate end to military repression, the release of Aung San Suu Kyi and others, and the restoration of democracy," Johnson said on Twitter. Johnson also condemned the killing of dozens of protesters.

Uproar over plan to bury Covid victims in Tamil islet

COLOMBO

RESIDENTS of a remote islet, dominated by the Tamil community, in north eastern Sri Lanka are protesting against the government's decision to bury the Muslim Covid victims there.

On Tuesday, the government had said that the Covid-19 fatalities from the Muslim minority community would be transported at government cost to be buried at the Iranathivu island in the Mannar region.

Residents of the island, which is dominated by the country's Tamil minority, protested on Wednesday against the government's decision. They claim that their island would be destroyed if the Covid-19 victims are buried there.

They said that it takes nearly 90 minutes by boat from the mainland to reach Iranathivu and when the sea is rough in unfavourable weather, the travel becomes impossible.

Therefore, it is not practicable to transport a virus infected body safely by boat and cross 20 kms distance in the sea, they said.

However, Director General Health Services Asela Gunawardena said, "this is only a temporary measure. We will soon identify other locations too". The islet, which is 1 km X 1.5 km in size, has a Sri Lankan Navy detachment while its residents were displaced in 1997 at the height of military conflict with the LTTE.

There are a little over 400 families now living in the islet. The island was designated as the burial site of Muslims following the community protests for nearly an year as the burial rights of Muslims, who died due to Covid, were denied by the government citing health issues.

Court tells govt to remove Durrani's name from no-fly list

A high court in Pakistan on Thursday asked the government to remove the name of former spy master Lt Gen (retd) Asad Durrani from the no-fly list. Islamabad High Court (IHC) Chief Justice Athar Minallah gave the directive while hearing a petition by 80-year-old Durrani seeking removal of his name from the Exit Control List (ECL), which names those barred from going abroad. The court examined all records and found that there was no inquiry going on against Durrani, the Chief Justice said, adding that this retired general also has rights. Durrani, who headed the ISI agency from August 1990 till March 1993, ran into hot waters in 2018 by co-authoring a book titled The Spy Chronicles: RAW, ISI and the Illusion of Peace with former Research and Analysis Wing (RAW) chief A S Dulat

Plot to storm US Capitol uncovered

WASHINGTON

US law enforcement was on high alert on Thursday around the Capitol after intelligence uncovered a "possible plot" by a militia group to storm the iconic building again, two months after a mob of Donald Trump supporters smashed through windows and doors to try to stop Congress from certifying now-President Joe Biden's victory.

The threat appears to be connected to a far-right conspiracy theory, mainly promoted by supporters of QAnon, that former President Trump will rise again to power on March 4 and that thousands will come to Washington, DC, to try to remove Democrats from office. March 4 was the original presidential inauguration day until 1933, when it was moved to January 20.

Online chatter identified by authorities included discussions among members of the Three Percenters, an anti-government militia group, concerning possible plots against the Capitol on Thursday, according to two law enforcement officials who were not authorised to speak publicly and spoke on condition of anonymity. Members of the Three Percenters were among the extremists who stormed the Capitol on January 6.

The threat came as the Capitol police and other law enforcement agencies were taking heat from Congress in contentious hearings this week on their poor handling of the 6 riot. Police were ill-prepared for the mass of Trump supporters in tactical gear, some armed, and it took hours for National Guard reinforcements to come. By then, rioters had broken and smashed their way into the building and roamed the halls for hours, stalling Congress' certification effort temporarily and sending lawmakers into hiding.

"The US Capitol Police Department is aware of and prepared for any potential threats towards members of Congress or towards the Capitol complex," Capitol Police said. AFP

Applications for new UK post-study visa from July

LONDON

A new post-study work visa that offers international students from countries like India the opportunity to stay on and take up jobs after completing their course in the United Kingdom will formally open for applications from July 1, the UK Home Office said on Thursday.

The Graduate route visa, announced last year by UK Home Secretary Priti Patel as part of her new post-Brexit points-based immigration regime and confirmed within the Immigration Rules tabled in Parliament this week, is applicable from the 2020-2021 academic cohort of international students.

"As we rebuild from the global pandemic we want the world's brightest talent, who aspire to a career at the highest levels of business, science, the arts and technology to see our United Kingdom as the natural place to fulfil their aspirations," said Kevin Foster, Minister for Future Borders and Immigration.

The grace period for students hit by the coronavirus travel restrictions and forced into remote learning last year now have until June 21 to be physically present in the UK to be eligible for the new route, extended further from the April 6 deadline.

Students who began their studies in January or February 2021 will need to be in the UK by September 27.

To apply under the new Graduate route, international students must have completed an eligible course at a recognised UK higher education provider at undergraduate or higher level.

POPE ALL SET TO BEGIN HISTORIC TOUR OF IRAQ

On the eve of his historic trip to Iraq, Pope Francis paid tribute on Thursday to those who have suffered from years of violence, saying he came as a "pilgrim of peace"

CULMINATION OF TWO DECADES OF EFFORTS

Pope Francis' visit is the culmination of two decades of efforts to bring a pope to the birthplace of Abraham, the prophet central to Christian, Muslim and Jewish faiths, after St John Paul II was prevented from going in 1999

SECURITY FEARS

Security is a concern for the March 5-8 visit, given the continued presence of rogue Shiite militias and fresh rocket attacks

Francis, who relishes plunging into crowds and zipping around in his popemobile, is expected to travel in an armored car with a sizeable security detail

The Vatican hopes the measures will have the dual effect of protecting the pope while discouraging contagion-inducing crowds

MEET WITH IMAM

One of the highlights of the trip is Francis' meeting with al-Sistani, the grand ayatollah

Francis has spent years trying to forge improved relations with Muslims. He signed a historic document on human fraternity in 2019 with a prominent Sunni leader, Sheikh Ahmed el-Tayeb, the grand imam of Al-Azhar, the seat of Sunni learning in Cairo

There are no plans to add the 91-year-old al-Sistani's signature to the document

Iraq base attack: US warns of military action

Washington: The White House warned that the US may consider a military response to the rocket attack on Wednesday that hit an air base in western Iraq, raising concerns this could trigger a new round of escalating violence. White House press secretary Jen Psaki suggested that the "calculated" US airstrikes last week could be a model for a military response. Those strikes were in response to an attack on American forces in northern Iraq earlier in February.

Palace to probe if Meghan bullied staff

London: Buckingham Palace has launched an investigation into allegations that Meghan Markle, the Duchess of Sussex, bullied staff during her time as a frontline royal with Prince Harry in Britain. The probe comes amid reports that she drove two personal assistants out of the household and undermined the confidence of a third member of staff. Past and present employees will speak in confidence about their experiences.

Strong equity inflows push FDI up by 22%

FDI equity inflow grew 40 per cent in the first nine months of 2020-21 and by 37 per cent in October-December

Total FDI inflow in Apr-Dec'20	FDI equity inflow in Apr-Dec'20	Equity inflow in Oct-Dec'20	Equity inflow in Dec'20

INDIA has attracted $67.54 billion in Foreign Direct Investment (FDI) during the first nine months of the current financial year—22 per cent higher than the same period last year due to high equity inflows. FDI inflow for the same period of 2019-20 stood at $55.14 billion.

"FDI equity inflow grew by 40 per cent in the first nine months of 2020-21 ($51.47 billion) compared to the year ago period ($36.77 billion)," a statement released by the commerce and industry ministry said on Thursday. The inflows increased by a substantial 37 per cent in the third quarter (October-December) of 2020-21 to $26.16 billion. In December alone, FDI surged 24 per cent to $9.22 billion, the data showed.

According to the Commerce and Industry ministry, the measures taken by the government on FDI policy reforms, investment facilitation, and ease of doing business have resulted in increased FDI inflows into the country. Foreign fund inflows are a major driver of economic growth and an important source of non-debt finance for the economic development of India.

"The steps taken in this direction during the last six and a half years have borne fruit, as is evident from the ever-increasing volumes of FDI inflows being received into the country. Continuing on the path of FDI liberalisation and simplification, government has carried out FDI reforms across various sectors," the ministry statement said.

Meanwhile, officials claimed that the graph will only move forward in the coming months as the government is planning to relax FDI norms for Chinese companies. This should make way for investments worth about ₹15,000 crore which is pending for clearance.

"Currently, several proposals are being examined as per the fresh guidelines. The government will clear them on a priority basis in areas like infrastructure, start-ups, among others," a senior finance ministry official told TNIE.

India had, in April last year, amended the foreign direct investment (FDI) policy and made prior government sanction mandatory for investment from countries sharing a land border with it.

Wipro has announced the acquisition of London-based global management tech consultancy firm Capco for $1.45 billion, making this the largest services acquisition by an Indian IT firm till date.

Wipro's closest rival, HCL tech had, in 2018, acquired IBM's software products unit for $1.8 billion. Peers such as Tata Consultancy Services and Infosys have also stated that they will remain focused on M&As—especially due to the drop in company valuations. Wipro's latest acquisition will enable the IT giant to provide digital, consulting and technology services to financial institutions in the Americas, Europe and Asia Pacific.

Industry experts said that large buyouts by Indian-origin tech firms signal a shift in strategy—to integrate with foreign companies, absorb a culturally district workforce and scale to new geographies.

On Thursday, Infosys also announced its expansion to Calgary, Canada, and a plan to double its workforce in the unit to 4,000 by 2023.

Indian IT firms have typically shied away from large buyouts, unlike global peers like Accenture, IBM, and Cognizant that allocate billions of dollars for M&A budgets. As 2020 saw valuations drop, TCS, Infosys, Wipro and HCL tech all announced smaller acquisitions in the US and Europe to gain market share in key segments. TCS's CEO Rajesh Gopinathan had earlier said that like the global financial crisis of 2007-08, a lot of M&A activity will be noticed in the Indian IT services sector.

As a result of Wipro's big acquisition, nearly 5,500 employees of Capco will now be a part of the larger team and help scale up Wipro's customer delivery services, it said. London-headquartered Capco's clients include many marquee names in the global financial services industry. In addition, Capco also services clients in the energy and commodities trading sector. Industry Analyst Pareekh Jain said that the acquision would help Wipro close the gap with HCL Tech while also building scale, global presence, and differentiated capability in consulting for the BFSI segment.

CBDT extends relief to NRIs stranded by pandemic

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU

PROVIDING substantial relief to Non-resident Indians (NRIs) who were facing the prospect of double taxation due to being unable to leave the country during the Covid-19 pandemic, the Central Board of Direct Taxes (CBDT) has now said that if any individual is facing double taxation despite the relief provided in the relevant agreements, then such individuals may provide the tax department the necessary information by March 31, 2021.

"Circular No. 2 of 2021 has... provided that if any individual is facing double taxation even after taking into account the relief provided by the relevant Double Taxation Avoidance Agreement (DTAA), he/she may furnish the specified information by 31st March, 2021 in Form –NR annexed to the said Circular," a statement by the Union finance ministry said.

The Central Board of Direct Taxes (CBDT) had recently received various representations from across the country requesting a relaxation in the guidelines determining residential status for the fiscal year 2020-21. Under Indian laws, if an individual is resident in the country for a certain amount of time, then they would be liable to certain levels of taxation. However, according to the representations, many NRI individuals who had come on a visit to India during the previous year 2019-20 and intended to leave India but could not do so due to the suspension of international flights. Officials said that the matter has since been examined by direct tax board.

According to the statement, the direct tax board will consider providing such individuals either a general relaxation or specific relaxation in individual cases depending on the information that is provided to it.

Private sector job quota a disaster: Industry bodies

> It will spell disaster for the industrial development and private investment in the state... FICCI also believes that this move is against the spirit of the constitution the gives the citizens
>
> Uday Shankar, FICCI

THE Auto Component Manufacturers Association (ACMA) and the Federation of Indian Chambers of Commerce and Industry (FICCI) both criticised the Haryana sovernment's new job reservation policy in the private sector, saying on Thursday that the move will spell disaster and adversely impact business activities in the state.

The state government had, on March 2, passed the Haryana State Employment of Local Candidates Bill that mandates 75 per cent reservation in private sector factory and other blue-collar jobs for locals.

"Such a move would not only adversely impact the 'ease of doing business' in the state, but also be detrimental to Haryana's image of an industry friendly destination," said Deepak Jain, President of ACMA in a statement.

He added that the industry is keen that the state remains attractive for fresh investments, since in the last couple of years, automotive sector investments have been largely destined for other states.

At present, Haryana is home to the facilities of large OEMs such as Maruti Suzuki, Hero MotorCorp, and Honda 2-Wheelers. The state also has one of the highest concentration of component manufacturers. The automotive industry, with investments of over ₹40,000 crore, accounts for more than 25 per cent of Haryana's GDP and creates employment exceeding 10 lakh.

Federation of Indian Chambers of Commerce and Industry (FICCI) President Uday Shankar, meanwhile, termed the new policy as 'regressive straightjacket' that will force the industry to look beyond the state. "It will spell disaster for the industrial development and private investment in the state... FICCI also believes that this move is against the spirit of the constitution the gives the citizens of India," he said.

OPEC+ keeps oil output unchanged, prices jump

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

INTERNATIONAL oil exporters cartel OPEC and allied countries have agreed to leave most of their existing oil production cuts in place as the spread of new coronavirus variants prolongs concerns about economic weakness, according to reports late on Thursday night. The decision taken during their Thursday meeting immediately led to a spike in the price of crude oil—brent crude oil spiking 5.5 per cent to $67.58 per barrel.

Retail fuel prices in India are already at record highs due to high taxes and the steady rise in crude oil prices back to pre-pandemic levels is likely to push up petrol and diesel prices even further.

The so-called OPEC Plus—which includes countries like Russia that are not part of the cartel but have been coordinating production in recent years—made deep cuts in output in 2020 to stave off a complete collapse in prices.

It decided to add back 500,000 barrels per day in December, and analysts say it's possible the gathered ministers could raise production by another 500,000 barrels per day.

"The group still has a self-imposed cap of not raising the target production by more than 500,000 barrels per day on a monthly basis, which does not include the return of the extra 1 million barrels per day of Saudi Arabian cuts, which would come on top," said Bjornar Tonhaugen, head of oil markets at Rystad Energy ahead of the meeting, according to news agency reports, "The higher impact narrative of the meeting will therefore be guidance from Saudi Arabia."

BMW brings new MINI Countryman to Indian market with ₹39.5 lakh price tag

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

GERMAN luxury carmaker BMW on Thursday launched an updated version of its popular luxury hatchback model—the MINI Countryman—in India with price starting at ₹39.5 lakh (ex-showroom Delhi).

The model is locally produced at the company's Chennai factory and is available in two petrol variants—MINI Countryman Cooper S and MINI Countryman Cooper S JCW Inspired, priced at ₹39.5 lakh and ₹43.4 lakh, respectively, the carmaker said.

"The new MINI Countryman inspires you to take the path to new experiences and new horizons of the mind. This versatile sports activity vehicle (SAV) is just as home in an urban jungle as it is in the great outdoors," BMW Group India President Vikram Pawah said in a statement.

The model comes with a 2-litre petrol engine enabling the vehicle to sprint to 100 kilometers per hour in 7.5 seconds with a top speed of 225 kilometers per hour.

"For a fixed EMI, customers can own the versatile new MINI Countryman for a period of 3-4 years with a secure and comprehensive ownership package," the company said, adding that 'Absolute Value' offer will be available on both variants of the new MINI Countryman till end of the month of June 2021.

THE Covid-19 pandemic has disrupted the work-life balance of India's women workforce—especially those who were self-employed or in the beginning phase of their career, a report titled 'Women@Work' released on Thursday said.

According to the report, 80 per cent of working women who participated in the survey reported a negative impact from the pandemic. Covid hit the self-employed women hardest, followed by those who had just begun their professional careers, or were at the senior-most positions. The research was conducted during the third quarter of the financial year 2020-21 focusing on Covid's impact on the women workforce in the formal sector, correlating them to four variables: industry sector, occupational status, work experience, and hierarchical position.

According to the report, longer work hours, child or elderly care, constant financial worries, and job losses were the biggest constraints faced by working women surveyed. It noted that 38.5 per cent of them said they were adversely affected by the burden of added housework, childcare, and eldercare while 43.7 per cent stated that work-life balance has become worse.

Amongst those who lost their jobs to the pandemic, 61.1 per cent felt that women will be worse off than men. Poornima Shenoy, CEO, Hummingbird Advisors, said that as the world was reeling under the impact of the virus, there was another virus that was affecting social structures. "Working women were the ones who suffered the most from rising unemployment... there were gender disparities in the pandemic. These could stem from differential treatment of women or a disproportionate share of household responsibilities".

Pollard hits six sixes in an over

West Indies captain Kieron Pollard on Wednesday became only the third man to hit six sixes in an international over in his team's four-wicket T20I victory over Sri Lanka. The feat came in the sixth over of a bizarre West Indies innings, bowled by off-spinner Akila Dananjaya who moments earlier in his previous over had been celebrating taking a hat-trick.

INDIA EXPOSE FAULT LINES

Opting to bat first on a good batting wicket, England throw away advantage by stumbling to 205 in the final Test

SRINIDHI PR @ Chennai

EIGHT wickets to spin and England all out for 205. Sometimes, scorecards don't reflect the true story. That was the case on the first day of the fourth Test in Ahmedabad.

Despite all the noise surrounding the pitch and it possibly being a rank turner, it didn't behave as one expected it to. Drafting in a second spinner in Dom Bess and an extra batsman in Dan Lawrence, Joe Root & Co. thought they had read the pitch correctly. However, twice in two games the visiting team did not make use of winning the toss and batting first.

It was once again a lack of application that has put England in trouble. With India trailing by just 181 runs at the end of day's play with nine wickets in hand, defending a below-par total with just three specialist bowlers might not work in the visitors' favour.

Unlike the last two Tests, the pitch had something in it for the pacers. It seamed both ways, had good carry apart from offering some turn that one expects in these parts.

Mohammed Siraj (centre) celebrates the dismissal of Joe Root | SPORTZPICS

The way England's openers Zak Crawley (9) and Dom Sibley (2) played said a thing or two about how the batsmen were spooked by fear of the turning ball. It was similar to their dismissals in the pink-ball Test. What the pitch did was favour the batsmen who were willing to bide their time in the middle. But England, who do not have a single batsman who averages more than 40 apart from their skipper, fluffed their lines. It was a missed opportunity. "It was a batting wicket. It was coming onto the bat nicely, so we planned to bowl patiently and keep bowling at the same spot. Virat bhai told me that we have only two fast bowlers so we will keep rotating, and we will be well-rested," said Mohammed Siraj, who bagged two wickets.

Apart from the self-inflicted damage, it was Siraj — he replaced Jasprit Bumarh — who did his part in England's below-par total by setting up the dismissals of Root and Jonny Bairstow accurately. Using both inswingers and outswingers by varying line and length, he trapped the England skipper for five to leave them reeling at 30 for three in the 13th over.

For the first time since the first Test, England crossed 200 thanks to rescue act by Ben Stokes and Lawrence. Coming down the track against spinners and hitting a couple of sixes did yield runs for the all-rounder who made 55 off 121 balls. However, there was something lacking in their plans. Just when Stokes looked solid, off-spinner Washington Sundar dismissed him leg before wicket with a ball that went straight through.

On the other hand, Lawrence counter-attacked the Indian bowlers for a brisk 46. However, he also undid a fine innings with a moment of madness, stepping out to a turning ball off Axar Patel only to be stumped by Rishabh Pant.

India got off to a sedate start with opener Shubman Gill's defence being shattered by James Anderson in the third ball of the innings. However, Rohit Sharma and Cheteshwar Pujara held fort to remain unbeaten on 8 and 15 respectively as India have a crucial day ahead.

Jisna to skip Fed Cup, set for April return

MARTIN JOSEPH @Kochi

THE long lockdown has led to low turnouts during the first two Indian Grands Prix, the first main athletics event to be held amid the pandemic in the country. Top athletes are slowly getting back in their strides but some are still away from the track. The Athletics Federation of India, however is not perturbed. Even the third Indian GP on Friday is expected to be the same.

One such top athlete who is missing is 22-year-old Jisna Mathew, a 400m specialist. Training under PT Usha at her academy near Kozhikode, she has not taken part in any of the Grand Prix. She will also miss the Federation Cup scheduled in Patiala. "We don't want to take any unnecessary risks at this stage of her career," said Usha. "Participating in the IGP or even the Fed Cup requires a lot of travel. We will be at a high risk of contracting the virus. At this moment, it doesn't feel like that is a risk worth taking."

Usha added Jisna is improving constantly and that they are considering competing in some meets in Kerala.

"The Calicut University meet is scheduled in April and she could compete there. But we are having training sessions to keep her fit and competition ready. Hopefully, she can compete within the state for the time being." When asked about qualification for the Olympics, the athletics legend suggested that there is no need to panic.

"We have the long term in mind. It's not a case of her securing qualification and just going to Tokyo and giving an average performance. She is still young and there is no need to have a mentality of 'now or never'. We will compete when the time is right and she doesn't have to peak in February for the Olympics, which is in July-August."

Jaismine makes it big

ANMOL GURUNG @ Chennai

TAKING part in an international bout for the nth time, boxing ace MC Mary Kom got a customary win in the bag to secure the first medal for India on Day 2 of the ongoing Boxam Tournament in Castellon de la Plana, in Spain. Not much time later, it was Jaismine's, 18 years younger than Mary, turn to enter the ring. It was in fact her first-ever bout in the senior international level. The result? Jaismine, who competes in the 57 kg category, emulated Mary to ace the bout by unanimous verdict.

Having done well during the recent national camps, Jaismine had been chosen over other top boxers in the country for this exposure tour. The 20-year-old showed why she was backed by the coaches and officials as she got the better of the USA No 1 Andrea Selma Medina, a silver medallist in the recently-held Strandja Memorial Tournament, 5-0 in the quarterfinals. The win also ensured a medal for the youngster from Haryana. Medina had beaten Sakshi, one of India's top boxers in the 57 kg category, during the Strandja meet.

Bronze medallist at the 2019 Asian Youth Boxing Championships, Jaismine was promoted to the senior level not so long ago. Bhaskar Bhatt, India women's youth coach, is not surprised by her steady progress.

"She is highly sincere and if she stays like that she can go on to become a great boxer. Boxing is everything for her. She is totally focussed and is just working on how to improve her game," Bhatt, who worked with Jaismine during her time with the youth team, told this daily.

Two-time World Championships medallist Lovlina Borgohain had an off day as she lost 0-5 to Russia's Saadat Dalgatova.

Archer Pragati's fairytale

AYANTAN CHOWDHURY @New Delhi

WHAT a remarkable turnaround it has been for Pragati Choudhary. From suffering a brain haemorrhage and being in a coma last May, the 16-year-old has managed to make the cut for the national team which will take part in the upcoming archery World Cups.

The compound archer finished third in the trials held at SAI Sonepat and is a part of the A team, the top four compound archers in the country at the moment. "I'm very happy to have made the team. It was a difficult time for everyone involved last year. I'm glad I can now focus on the upcoming challenges," she said.

She is all set to take part in the World Cup Stage I in Guatemala City and Stage III in Paris. Pragati suffered a brain stroke on May 5 and was operated on the very next day.

James supports Klopp, Solskjaer; says players cannot go to high-risk areas

ASHIM SUNAM @Bengaluru

FOOTBALL club managers in England have been moaning about the tight schedule in the wake of the pandemic in the last few months. They are right to some extent as players are risking injuries due to a jam-packed schedule .Things are going to get complicated further with the upcoming world cup qualifiers later this month for clubs that have players from countries like Brazil and a host number of nations, which are included in the UK's Covid-19 red list.

It means they will have to quarantine in a hotel for 10 days upon return, which clubs are not okay with as this might force players to miss some big matches. No wonder, Liverpool's Jurgen Klopp and Manchester United's Ole Gunnar Solskjaer have already hinted about the possibility of not sending their players to countries on the list.

"The clubs operating in the UK have their own guidelines therefore the club should be able to influence the players. Of course, this is an issue that the players have the right to argue against. But in the end, if they have to stay at the top clubs, they have to adhere to all the club's requests," former England and Manchester City goalkeeper David James told this daily.

"The players and the international associations have to accept that players in the UK cannot go in high-risk areas. We are in unprecedented times so they have to deal with it likewise."

Goa face Mumbai in ISL semifinal

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

FC Goa are set to face Mumbai City FC in the first leg of Indian Super league semifinals at the Fatorda Stadium on Friday. One can expect an entertaining brand of football with both teams known for their attacking philosophy.

Goa will miss Ivan Gonzalez and Alberto Noguera due to suspensions. Mumbai will be without Amey Ranawade, who is suspended, while Hugo Boumous is set to return after a four-match ban.

Covid-19 strikes PSL, suspended

KARACHI: The Pakistan Super League (PSL) was suspended on Thursday after seven players tested positive for coronavirus, the country's cricket board said. The T20 competition was put on hold "with immediate effect", PCB said. "The decision was made after seven cases were reported in the competition," the PCB said. The PCB "will focus on the safe and secure passage of all participants, and arrange repeat PCR tests, vaccines and isolation facilities to the six participating sides", it added. The players are Australia's spinner Fawad Ahmed, England's Tom Banton and Mohammad Faizan, who represents Lahore. Australian all-rounder Daniel Christian withdrew from the competition over Covid fears. AFP
